The Goodrich Mystery Solved.

Kate Stoddard the Murderess.

NEW YORK, July 11, 1873.

The Goodrich Mystery Solved.

The death of Charles Goodrich is no longer a mystery. He was shot by Minnie Waltham, alias Kate Stoddard, on the night of the 21st of March, who was arrested on Tuesday last. She yesterday made a full confession of her guilt to the police authorities of Brooklyn. The search for the murderer has been untiring. Not only has Brooklyn been searched, but New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Washington, and a countless number of smaller places. The preliminary object of the search was the woman Stoddard, but so little was known about her personally that at the commencement there was next to nothing to work upon. The photograph obtained represented Kate as a pleasant-looking blonde of thirty, with a moderately full face, sparkling eyes, lightsome expression and buoyant manner, while Kate Stoddard, as arrested, was thin and emaciated. Only one person who knew her perfectly could be found—Miss Mary Handly; but for more than six weeks after the murder that person was laid up in bed sick. Kate Stoddard was met by Miss Handly in the street on Tuesday last. Miss Handly was going to New York and Kate Stoddard was evidently coming from it, when the meeting by accident took place. As soon as she met her Miss Handly recognized her and followed her until she met a police officer, whom she induced to make the arrest. It became of the first importance to learn where she had come from. This she declined to reveal. Brooklyn was searched for a house where a woman had been missing since Tuesday morning. This resulted in the discovery that in a house on High street, between Jay and the bridge, such a woman had been missing. The woman who kept that house was taken to the station house, and identified Kate as her boarder, and had been living there since April. Her trunks were seized and opened, and in them was discovered the property of Goodrich, including a watch, a chain, a finger ring, a seal and a pocketbook with forty dollars in bills, believed to be the identical money taken from the murdered man. In addition to these articles a revolver was found in the trunk, three of the chambers of which were loaded and three empty. There were three bullets found in Goodrich's head. Kate confesses that the revolver found in her trunk was the weapon with which she killed Goodrich. Every article of property taken by her from the premises she seems to have carefully preserved. Since the tragedy she has had a terrible struggle for life. Working at times as a sewing girl, she made money enough to buy bread. At others she was compelled to sell her clothes for sustenance. But curiously enough, while thus at the verge of starvation, she kept the jewelry and money of her victim lying untouched in her trunk. She had two trunks, both of which were taken possession of. In one of them was found an immense package of letters from her father and mother. These letters show that her home is at Middleborough, Mass., and her real name. The letters are carefully and kindly written, showing the old people to be full of solicitude for the moral and material welfare of their daughter. There is nothing at all to justify the supposition that they knew anything about the crime. In addition to these letters from her parents, two were found from Goodrich, making arrangements to meet her. The letters will be read at the inquest to-morrow.

The following is the statement of the woman herself to the police: She had been living with Charlie, as she called the deceased, and was greatly attached to him. He wanted to cast her off, but she loved him so much that she could not leave him. She entreated on her knees that he would allow her to remain, but he was firm, and in fact brutal in his treatment of her, and the Thursday before the Friday on which the body was found was the day fixed for her to leave him, he threatening her with all sorts of things if she dared to trouble him further. She had remained in the house in De Graw street all the previous evening, and in the morning when Goodrich got up, she again besought him not to cast her off. He was very angry, and refused her request or to hear her at all. He then went into the basement at the front of the house and proceeded to light the Baltimore heater located there.

The murderess says she loved the man so much that she could not leave him. When she saw him determined to discard her, she worked herself up to murder him. She had one of his revolvers in her pocket, not the one which the detectives found lying at the house beside the corpse, and while Goodrich was stooping down on one hand and knee, in the act of lighting the heater, she drew the pistol, and extending her hand toward him, she said "Charlie." He looked up, and she shot him three times. These were the fatal wounds which the post mortem examination disclosed. After she committed the murder, on Thursday morning, she waited all that day and night in the house, watching it. On Friday morning she had occasion to go to New York, and early that morning she washed the blood from the face of the murdered man with the towel which she afterward wrung out, and which was also found damp by the police. She it was who fixed the corpse as it was discovered, and when she had done this she went over to New York for something or other, and was about to return to the house on that Friday evening. She came over the Fulton Ferry, and ere she had fairly put her foot on the street she heard the newsboys crying out "extra," "murder of Charles Goodrich." She bought a paper, returned to New York, and the rest is known. She states: "I killed him for love. I couldn't part with him."

A reporter was informed that Kate Stoddard had attempted to commit suicide. He went to the police authorities, but they denied any knowledge of the matter. Coroner Whitehiel, however, said she had not attempted suicide, but there is no doubt she would if an opportunity presented. She has begged and prayed, ever since she has been satisfied her guilt was proven, to be left alone. There is a woman with her all the time, and on repeated occasions she has made this request, urging it with tears in her eyes. "Let me be alone, if only for a few minutes, for God's sake," she said, and asked the woman in charge to take pity on her. This is at the station house, where she is confined. She will not be without a female attendant watching over her day and night.

There are some features in this woman's history and her deportment that seem to justify the belief already prevalent in certain quarters that she is insane. The daughter of the landlady of the house where Kate Stoddard lived at the time of her arrest says of her, in answer to questions, that when Kate came to the house she said she was employed in New York, and wished a furnished room. Her mother never let out any portion of the house before, and would not have done it only to a lady, as we thought she was. She was engaged at light straw work, and made hats very prettily. She used to go to work every morning and come back every evening regularly for the first month or so, until three weeks ago, when she did her work at home and took it over in parcels when finished. She never had a friend call or received a letter. Mother often told me she thought Miss Waltham had something on her mind, that she had seen trouble, but Miss Waltham never told mother or myself anything of the sort. I remember a circumstance, which we took no notice of at the time, but which has some bearing on the case now. My brother used to come occasionally and read for us, and Miss Waltham liked to hear him. One day he was going to read about the Walworth murder, and she said: "Oh, don't read that. I don't like to hear of murders." On mother wishing to hear it and my brother to read it, she got up and left the room. With that exception I know of no other case. She never made any attempt to conceal herself, and from her speech and deportment has evidently been brought up in good circumstances. She had several dresses, not expensive, but neat. She exercised great taste in her dress, and was always very clean. Her room was always tidy and in order, and, as I said before, we thought a good deal of her, and thought her to be a perfect lady. She used to hire a piano, which she played upon. She was not a good player, but said she was very fond of music. She was fond of going to Beecher's church, and used to attend every Sunday regularly.

A Firm Enjoined from Transferring Union Pacific Stock.

The Chairman of the Stock Exchange this morning issued the following notice to the members of the Board: "Morton, Bliss & Co. have been enjoined from transferring Union Pacific stock in the names of the persons recently published as bondholders, and such stock is not now good for delivery to purchasers."

The Orangemen's Parade.

Grand Marshal McGee informed the Superintendent of Police to-day that one thousand Orangemen would march in procession to-morrow, and was assured they would be properly guarded. Some citizens urge the Superintendent to call on the militia, but it is not likely any regiments will be ordered out.

FORT GARRY.

The Gordon Case.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.—A Minneapolis special to the Daily Sentinel says the proceedings in the Gordon case at Ft. Garry develop facts which materially change the complexion of affairs. It has been all along understood that the American party was arrested by Manitoba officers on British soil, but the evidence proves that the arrest was made south of the line located by the new boundary survey. It is expected that the friends of the prisoners will at once apply to the American authorities to demand their release by the Manitoba Government.

—The last brick was laid on Grand Central Hall of the Exposition building in Indianapolis on Friday. The roof is more than half on, and the building will be inclosed next week. Horticultural Hall, connecting the Grand Central Hall with Agricultural Hall in the east, is to be eighty by twenty-five feet, and will be completed by the 1st of August. A very large force is employed on the buildings.

THE INDIANS.

The Trial of the Modoc Prisoners Concluded.

FORT KLAMATH, OREGON, July 10, via Yreka, Cal., July 11.—The Military Commission for the trial of the Modocs implicated in the massacre of the Gen. Canby peace commission concluded their labors yesterday. The evidence for the prosecution is of a most positive character, leaving no doubt of the guilt of the prisoners. The only witnesses produced for the defence were Scar-faced Charley, Dave, One-eyed Mose and William. Their evidence amounted to nothing in favor of the prisoners. It was simply a recital of what the Klamath lake Indians had done and told them (the Modocs) since this trouble commenced. The only testimony produced by the prosecution, which was of no value, was that of Mr. Dyar, Indian agent at the Klamath reservation. He could swear to nothing positively, except that he accompanied the Gen. Canby peace commission to the council tent. No doubt exists in the minds of those who listened to the trial but the Commission will find them guilty of the charges and specifications for which they were tried. The soldiers and citizens of the place appeared to take a lively interest in the trial. The prisoners were also very attentive, and rely wholly upon the Commission for justice. Col. Elliot, Col. Curtis and Dr. Belden, official reporter for the Commission, leave this morning for San Francisco.

For the South Atlantic States, northerly winds, veering to southeast, with local rains.

For the Middle and Eastern States, northerly winds, partly cloudy and clear weather.

For the lake region and Ohio Valley, winds generally veer to northeast and southeast, with rising temperature.

For the upper lakes and northwest, falling barometer, southeasterly winds, increasing possibly to brisk and high, with cloudy weather and numerous local rains and severe storms.

Terrible Mine Accident.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—A terrible accident occurred at ten o'clock this morning at the fire clay mines of Parker, Russel & Co., about five miles from the city, by which three miners were killed and several wounded. One hundred and fifty worked in the mine at a depth of one hundred and fifty feet. At the hour mentioned the miners working in the lateral shaft at the bottom heard a singular noise. Thinking another lateral passage was falling in, they rushed toward the vertical shaft to escape, but had proceeded but a few yards when an immense piece of slate, two feet thick, fifteen yards long and ten wide, fell.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Article on Railroads and Canals Under Discussion.

At Thursday's afternoon session of the Constitutional Convention, the article on railroads and canals was taken up on second reading and proceeded with as far as the sixth section, which was pending at the close of the day. The requirement upon railroad and canal companies organized or doing business here, to keep an office in this State for the transaction of their business, was stricken out.

The section prohibiting common carrier corporations from holding, guaranteeing or endorsing the stock or bonds of any corporation, individuals or partnership, except those doing business of common carriers, was discussed. An amendment was offered by Messrs. J. Bailey and Cochran, prohibiting such corporations from purchasing each other's stock or chartered franchise, or leasing the same. The amendment was favored by Messrs. J. Bailey, T. H. B. Patterson and Cochran, and opposed by Messrs. Baer, Niles, Armstrong, Turrell, Bigler, J. B. Wetherill, Howard, Cuyler, Mann, Curtin and Broomall. Both amendments were rejected, together with the section.

The section prohibiting common carrier corporations, their officers or managers, from engaging in mining or manufacturing, &c., holding lands, &c., created a discussion, which was participated in by Messrs. Fulton, Darlington, Armstrong, Cuyler, Lilly and Buckalew against the section, and by Messrs. Andrew Reed, H. W. Palmer and Henry White in support of a modification of it, and by Messrs. Howard and T. H. B. Patterson in its favor. The section was amended by omitting prohibition as to officers or managers. Pending a vote the Convention adjourned.

FRIDAY MORNING'S SESSION.

On Friday morning the Convention resumed the consideration of the article reported from the Committee of the Whole on railroads and canals, the sixth section pending. No incorporated company doing the business of common carrier, nor officers or managers thereof, shall directly or indirectly prosecute or engage in mining or manufacturing articles for other persons or corporations, for transportation over the works of said company; nor shall such company, directly or indirectly, engage in any other business than that of common carriers, or hold or acquire lands in freehold or leasehold, directly or indirectly, except such as shall be necessary for carrying on its business; but any mining or manufacturing company may carry the products of its mines and manufactories on its railroad or canal, not exceeding fifty miles in length.

Mr. Buckalew, of Columbia, moved to strike out "but any mining or manufacturing company may carry the products of its mines or manufactories on its railroad or canal, not exceeding fifty miles in length." The section was otherwise amended and passed.

No incorporated company doing the business of a common carrier shall directly or indirectly prosecute or engage in mining or manufacturing articles of transportation over the works of said company, &c., the latter part of the section being the same as in the original.

Mr. Bullett, of Philadelphia, moved a new section, that presidents, directors, officers, agents, and other employes of railroad and canal companies shall not engage or be interested directly or indirectly, otherwise than as stockholders, in such railroad or canal companies, in the transportation of freight or passengers common carriers over the works of any company of which they are presidents, directors, officers, agents, or employes; they shall not engage or be interested in the transportation of freight or passengers over the works of any such company, except they are stockholders in such company, which may be leased or a majority of the capital stock of which may be owned or controlled by the company of which they are presidents, directors, officers, agents, or employes. Agreed to.

The seventh section was read, and after several new sections had been offered and rejected, without coming to a vote, the Convention took a recess.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROADS.

Facts and Figures from the Auditor General's Report.

HON. Harrison Allen, Auditor General of Pennsylvania, has our thanks for a copy of an official pamphlet giving the tabulated results compiled from the annual reports of the railroad, canal, and telegraph companies of this State for the year 1873. Some of the facts and figures from these reports have already been made public, but there are many more that are interesting as showing the magnitude of our railroad system.

The total amount of capital stock paid in on all the steam railroads in the State, was $439,-864,345, which is an increase over the previous year of $78,869,055. The funded debts of all the companies were $325,413,597. The whole cost of the roads and their equipments is put down at $524,395,134. The whole length of the main lines of railroad was 6,211 miles; of double tracks, 1,618 miles; of branch roads, 1,180 miles. Some further facts are given in the following figures:

No. of engine houses and shops	483
" engines	3,720
" first-class passenger cars	1,538
" second-class " "	250
" baggage, mail and express cars	734
" freight cars	58,630
" coal, ore, stone and tank cars	64,628
" iron bridges	481
" wooden bridges	1,774
" stone bridges	368
" depots or stations	1,890
" wood and water stations	907
" tunnels	51

Some of the tables, and particularly that of receipts from passengers, freight, &c., are very incomplete, but the footings up of that one are as follows:

From passengers	$ 32,745,905 79
From freight	88,977,894 98
From mail and express	5,013,378 00
From use of cars	1,646,446 49
From miscellaneous	6,434,223 66
Total receipts	$134,818,848 92

The table of accidents on all the roads presents the following totals:

	Killed.	Injured.	Total.
Passengers	33	160	193
Employes	254	615	869
Others	285	213	498
Total	572	988	1560

When it is added that the number of passengers carried in the year, even with many roads making no reports, is put down at 35,170,294, the fact that only 33 were killed is very remarkable. On the Reading Railroad alone 6,383,991 passengers were carried, and only 2 were killed. On the Pennsylvania Railroad 5,250,398 were carried, and only 10 were killed. On the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad 839,793 passengers were carried, and only three were killed. On the North Pennsylvania 559,926 were carried, and none were killed. On the Lehigh Valley 967,850 were carried, and 7 were killed. On the Lehigh and Susquehanna 489,713 were carried, and 1 was killed. On the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore 1,747,195 were carried, and none were killed. On the Philadelphia and Trenton 1,747,195 were carried, and none were killed. Many of the smaller companies report no casualties of any kind to passengers.

The City Passenger Railways of the State are 260 miles in length, and the companies own 1,048 cars and 5,597 horses and mules. The capital stock authorized was $15,340,200; but only $12,474,994 was subscribed, and only $5,-754,530 was paid in. The number of passengers carried in the year was 77,828,469, and the receipts were $4,936,598, while the expenses were $3,743,141. There were 17 persons killed on all the roads, of whom only 2 were passengers, and 25 injured, of whom only 5 were passengers.

HALIFAX.

The City of Washington Disaster—The Passengers Sent to their Destinations—The Vessel Gone to Pieces—Narrow Escape of the Crew.

HALIFAX, July 11.—The steamer M. A. Starr returned this morning from the wreck of the City of Washington, bringing all the cabin passengers, about 300 of the steerage passengers, Dr. Wilson, surgeon of the ship, and several stewards. All the steerage passengers and thirteen cabin passengers were transferred to the steamer Falmouth, which sailed for Portland. The steerage passengers were very cheerful under the circumstances, and seemed to take their misfortune in good part. The passengers who remained behind go on by rail. Several belong in New England. Capt. Phillips and his officers and crew remain at the wreck until all the steerage passengers are sent up here. The Starr goes back to Port Le Bear for the remainder of the steerage passengers. They will be forwarded by rail to their places of destination.

The position of the steamer is much the same as previously reported. It was very rough yesterday in the vicinity of the wreck. A heavy swell from the southward in the morning caused the sea to break with great force and violence across the bar where the vessel lay. This caused the vessel to lift and surge so much that at 9 o'clock she parted abaft the forward wheelhouse, and the after-part immediately fell over and sunk in fourteen feet of water, carrying one man with it, who clung to a small part of that which remained above water, and was rescued with difficulty. The breakers made a clean sweep over the aft part of the wreck, which remained upright. All the spars went overboard with a crash when the ship parted, except the mizzen-mast, which is still standing. One of the boats, in which the officers and crew were escaping from the wreck, was smashed by a heavy sea, but the occupants were rescued by a boat from the shore.

Captain Sheridan has arrived with his divers and begun operations for saving the cargo. It is thought the greater portion of the cargo will be recovered, though in a damaged condition. All will probably be brought to Halifax.

The cabin passengers speak in terms of praise of the kindness of James Harding of Port Le Bear, in whose house they were so comfortably cared for while waiting for the arrival of the Starr, and on leaving they presented him a purse in token of the appreciation of his conduct.

SPAIN.

A Town Sacked by Governments Troops.

BAYONNE, June 11.—The Carlist force which captured San Guisa were soon driven out by Government troops, who sacked the place, burned factories and insulted women. The pretext was that the population sympathized with the Carlists.

A Battle Fought at Santa Coloma.

MADRID, July 11.—The Minister of War has received intelligence of a battle at Santa Coloma, Barcelona, at which fifty of the insurgents were killed.

A Command Declined.

General Cordova has declined the command of the Army of the North.

Fatal Railway Accident.

An accident yesterday on the Southern Railway killed and injured many persons.

Republicans Defeated near Ripoll.

BAYONNE, June 11.—Reports have reached here that the Carlist chief Sabails, with 3,000 men, surprised 4,000 Republicans under Gen. Cabrinety, near Ripoll, that Cabrinety was killed, one half his command taken prisoners, and all his artillery captured.

O'Kelly Released.

[Special to N. Y. Herald.]

MADRID, July 11.—O'Kelly arrived at Madrid and obtained his liberty under a guarantee of the British Legation.

Internationalist Rising in Alcoy.

MADRID, July 11.—The Imparcial says the Internationalists in Alcoy have risen against the authorities, shot the mayor, burned sixty houses, and are now besieging the Civil Guards and volunteers, who had taken refuge in the town hall. They hold a number of prominent citizens as hostages, and threaten to shoot them if the troops attack the town from the outside.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Excitement in Belfast.

LONDON, July 11.—There is considerable excitement in Belfast in consequence of apprehensions of a disturbance to-morrow during the parade of the Orangemen. The authorities have made extensive preparations for the maintenance of order, and are resolved to act rigorously to prevent the re-enactment of the scenes of the last 12th of July. One thousand special policemen have been sworn in and additional troops have been sent to the city. Placards were posted this morning, signed by Wm. Johnston, member of Parliament from Belfast, deprecating the Orange demonstration.

The Question of Preserving Order.

DUBLIN, July 11. The police of this city have addressed a memorial to the Commissioner, declaring that if their demands are not conceded, they must decline all responsibility for the preservation of order.

A Royal Marriage Arranged.

[Special to the N. Y. Herald.]

LONDON, July 11.—A marriage has finally been arranged between the Duke of Edinburgh and the Grand Duchess Maria Alexandrowna, only daughter of the Emperor of Russia. The settlement took place at 11 o'clock to-night. The Duke thus foregoes the right of succession to the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg, which fact involves important political considerations.

GERMANY.

Bismarck to Retire from the Prussian Cabinet.

BERLIN, July 11.—The permanent retirement of Bismarck from the Prussian Cabinet, as announced some months ago, is on the eve of accomplishment. It was stated in a dispatch sent from this city on the 25th ult. that the Prince had taken preparatory steps for his withdrawal. He will retain the German Chancellorship. Von Balen, it is reported, will be Minister of Foreign Affairs.

SANITARY MATTERS.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Health—Receipts of Health Officer and Meat Inspector.

The Board of Health held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon, the following members being present: Messrs. Arthurs, House, Gilmore, Hays and Fleming.

In the absence of the President Dr. Arthurs was called to the chair.

The Health Officer was instructed to call the attention of Councils again to the water course in the Twenty-first ward, and ask that the water be sewered at once. He was also instructed to notify the Committee on City Property of the condition of the basement of the Nineteenth ward lock-up.

The Sanitary Committee reported a nuisance at the Fourteenth ward brewery, and also concerning several nuisances on the South Side.

Health Officer Gray presented his report for the month of June, as follows:

Number of nuisances abated	970
Number of permits granted	189
Amount received from permits	$378 00
Amount expended	58 80
Balance	$319 30
Number of deaths in June	273

Report received and filed.

Meat Inspector Lindsay presented his report for the quarter ending June 30th, as follows: Condemned and confiscated beef, 5,670 pounds; condemned and confiscated pork, 150 pounds; condemned and confiscated veal, 150 pounds; condemned and confiscated mutton, 300 pounds; condemned cattle, 3 head; condemned sheep, 13 head; condemned and confiscated fresh fish, 600 pounds; condemned and confiscated eggs, 160 dozen.

Fines to the amount of eighty dollars were reported.

The following report of the stock shipped East from the East Liberty stock yards during the quarter was also presented:

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
April	35,500	79,500	56,862
May	34,061	72,644	78,284
June	39,651	81,160	75,400
	109,212	233,304	210,546

Account of dead stock during the quarter: Cattle, 32; hogs, 2,960; sheep, 387.

Report received and filed.

The question asked by the Meat Inspector, in relation to the disposal of money received from hogs condemned, was referred to the Attorney of the Board.

After approving the quarterly bills, the Board adjourned.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

[Before Judge Collier.]

In the case of William Michael, indicted for assault and battery on oath of Anna Ortman, previously reported, a verdict of not guilty was rendered, and the costs divided.

Michael and Martin Flaherty were placed on trial, on an indictment for felonious assault and battery, on oath of Derby McDonough. The accused alleged that he went to subpœna a witness, when the defendants drew a horse pistol and pointed it at him, with a threat to shoot him. A verdict of not guilty was rendered, the prosecutor being directed to pay the costs.

John Braddon was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery on William Ward.

John McCann was committed for forty-eight hours by Judge Collier for contempt of court, in clapping his hands when a verdict was rendered by a jury.

John Jones was tried on an indictment for larceny and receiving stolen goods, on oath of Mary Ann Pollitt. The wife of the defendant was tried some time ago, and convicted and sentenced to the Work House for six months. Jones fled to Steubenville, and was not arrested until last week. The indictment charged the accused with the larceny of $310 of money alleged to have been stolen. The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the first count of the indictment—viz: larceny.

James Shelding was placed on trial on an indictment for larceny by bailee and larceny, on oath of Mr. Ed. Boyd. It is charged that Mr. Shelding unlawfully retains possession of a lot of drawings and plans belonging to Boyd. The case is still on trial.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—JUDGE M'CANDLESS.

The matter of Michael Biglin, of Luzerne county, a bankrupt, John H. Sutphen was appointed assignee, instead of T. J. Fisher, who has removed from the State.

In the matter of George B. Hill & Co. vs. Samuel R. McClean, of this city, an order was made for the hearing of an injunction on the 6th inst., and in the meantime restraining the act sought to be restrained.

In the matter of Christian Otto Hess, bankrupt, an order was made for the third and last hearing, on the petition for final discharge.

In the matter of Henry G. Bell & Co., of New York, vs. Wm. C. Treadwell, of Erie county, an order to show cause, returnable July 22d, was issued.

In the matter of Joel W. Stratton, of Crawford county, an order for final discharge in bankruptcy was made.

In the matter of Frazier & Frye vs. John V. McDonald, on the rule of the petitioning creditors to show cause why the petition and all proceedings thereunder should not abate, on account of the death of the debtor, and which was argued at great length a few days since, Judge McCandless delivered a written opinion making the rule absolute, which in effect discontinues the proceedings. The papers have already been prepared to have the opinion of His Honor revised by His Honor Judge McKennan, as requested in the opinion of Judge McCandless.

In the case of the United States vs. the cargo of iron ore belonging to the schooners Caledonia and Ben. Franklin, seized at Erie, bonds for the release of the ore were presented and approved, and the U. S. Marshal was ordered and directed to release the property attached and to deliver the same to the claimants.

DAMAGED SUITORS.

Their Appeals to the Courts.

Yesterday Mrs. Martin Kraus presented herself in the District Court and entered suit against Voelker & Bittner, livery stable keepers, for damages in the sum of $2,000. The lady alleges that she was attending the funeral of a little child of Conrad Skillen, on the 10th of June, when the carriage in which she was seated was overturned, and she had an arm broken and was otherwise seriously injured, all on account of the carelessness of the driver.

LOSS OF A WIFE.

Samuel Mitchell of Plum township, through his attorney, entered suit against Robert Skillen, claiming $10,000 damages. The affidavit of complainant sets forth that on the 11th of September, 1872, the defendant induced the wife of the complainant, Mary Jane Mitchell, to leave her home in Plum township and elope with him, the said Skillen, to Cairo, Illinois. It is furthermore charged that they returned to Allegheny City on the 9th of May last, and that the defendant provided rooms and lived with the said wife of the complainant, thereby alienating her from the affections of her lawful husband, whereby he alleges his happiness has been destroyed.

A SALOON KEEPER SUED.

Mrs. Mary Perry, of Oakland, brought suit against Joseph McIlabanny, a saloon keeper, for $10,000 damages. The complainant alleges that her husband, on the night of March 3, went to the saloon and drank deeply. She attempted to get him home but failing, warned the saloon keeper to give him no more drink. She alleges this mandate was not obeyed, and that her husband received more liquor, was turned out of the house at one o'clock in the morning, fell over a flight of steps at his own home, and received injuries from which he died. Hence the suit.

In all of the above cases summonses were issued.

Special Opening Of Imported Suits.

Hugus & Hacke have just received a large consignment of Parisian and Berlin Suits, adapted specially for Travelling and Sea side costume. These goods are of choice materials, made and trimmed in the very best style, and having been bought at extraordinary low prices, will be sold at half their former value.

PLAIN TRUTH.

The suffering invalid who, from day to day, is laboring under a painful and exhausting disease, if he reads our articles and makes the application to his own case, will be amply repaid for all his time and trouble. The trials and perplexities of life are severe and trying enough to the most of us, even when in the enjoyment of full and robust health; but, alas! how doubly irksome when they are associated with pain and suffering from some long-existing chronic disease.

Most of those who suffer from such maladies would gladly avail themselves of the means of cure if they only knew where to find them, and this knowledge can nowhere so readily be obtained as through the columns of a newspaper of wide-spread circulation and extensively read. Reader, if this advertisement strikes your eye, do not throw it down in disgust, but read it through to the end, and then go and get Dr. Keyser's treatise on chronic diseases and read it—it will cost you nothing—and if you are afflicted with any chronic disease for which you have, up to this time, been unable to get relief, go to Dr. KEYSER, and if relief is within the reach of medicine, the Doctor will be sure to afford it. The Doctor, in this article, does not propose to say one word about Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, nor to allude, in any particular way, to its wonderful power in the cure of disease. That subject is fully discussed, as well as his mode of treatment, in the treatise, which he proposes to give to all who ask or send for it. The treatise is illustrated with five plates, well executed and explanatory of several of the diseased conditions to which the human lungs are liable; and we can hardly see how it can be read without carrying conviction to the minds of all who take the time to examine it. The inattention which is usually given to chronic diseases has been so manifest that that class of maladies have increased of late years to an alarming and extraordinary extent; so much so, that many persons have abandoned all hope of ever getting well. No greater error could take possession of the human mind. The great Author of human nature never intended, surely, that man should suffer on through years with medicable ills, when He has scattered, throughout the wide domain of nature, the very remedies which, if duly applied, will not fail to cure. Do you expect, oh, chronic invalids! to get well by a listless and careless regard for your own health and life? Was not your health and being given you to take care of, and to be preserved in its integrity to the latest hour of your existence, and have you not strewed around you, with providential abundance, all the means of doing so? If you admit the truth of what we say, why not, then, be up and a-doing to fit and qualify you for life's enjoyment and the practice of its exalted duties? You will be all the better for it, and the end will be crowned with substantial and real benefits. It is well known to most of the readers of the GAZETTE that most of our articles upon health have tended to the development of a plan of practice for the cure of Consumption, once regarded, and even now by many people, as a disease in which there is no hope of cure. We know that the doctor who undertakes to cure it must necessarily incur the occasional sneers of the doubters, and, once in a while, fail in the cure of his cases; but the cases are usually those who have deferred treatment to too late a day, or who have not persevered in the treatment after they had began it. There is no disease that will not pass into an incurable stage if allowed to run on, unless Nature, with an inherent power, stays its progress or drives out the causes which produce it. Consumption, like cancer, is a specific disease. It is inherited or produced by means of a substance called tubercle. This tubercle is foreign and inimical to the human body, and consequently not assimilable with the tissues and organs through which it performs its functions. That tubercle can be dissolved and carried out of the body through the natural channels thereof, is as sure as that weeds can be uprooted from your gardens, and its reproduction can be as surely hindered by restoring the blood to its plastic power as that light drives out darkness, or that truth will supplant and overcome error.

FUERTH THE FORGER.

His Arrival in the City.

Last evening at eight o'clock Detective Wilmot arrived in this city from Harrisburg with J. G. Fuerth, Jr., who was arrested for having passed at the Monongahela House a draft for one hundred dollars, on which he had forged the endorsement, as reported in the GAZETTE yesterday. Officer Wilmot met with considerable trouble and opposition in securing his man, as some of his friends used every exertion to retain him. They were in the act of securing a writ of habeas corpus when the officer took his prisoner and left the city.

On their way to Pittsburgh, Fuerth, when questioned as to the affair, acknowledged the forging, but excused himself by saying that he was out of money and had to do something to raise some funds. His father is a wholesale liquor dealer of New York, and is said to be a millionaire. His son, who is only about twenty three years of age, has been traveling for him and taking orders. The young man acknowledges that he has been living a rather fast life, and states that his father finally refused to respond to his oft repeated demands to "come down with the stamps," and coolly informed the young man that his drafts on him in the future would not be honored. When young Fuerth came to the "Monongahela" he had about one hundred dollars, which was soon gone through with, and as he could obtain no money from his father he adopted the unfortunate means which got him into trouble. He was placed in the lock-up last night and will probably have a hearing soon.

Pure Stimulants.

In the purchase of liquors more caution should be observed, perhaps, than in any other article of use. Liquors of an impure and deleterious nature, are unhealthy, injurious and dangerous. But to insure the purchase of a pure article the character of the establishment should be considered. A house which has established a reputation for genuineness and purity in the matter of liquors is that of Messrs. Dillinger & Stevenson, No. 87 Second avenue. If you want a rich, oily, mellow whiskey or a good old brandy, this is the place to purchase. They have an importation of brandies of the vintage of 1858, being fifteen years old. They have old Rye Whiskies, Hennessey, Martelle and Pinet—Castillon Brandies; London Stout Porter, Bass, Younger's and Flower's & Sons ales; some of the finest Sherry ever imported, besides a fine quality of old Port and Rhine Wines, all of which they offer at fairest figures.

The Best.

The American Button-hole machine is the best made. It is simple, easily kept in order, runs easy and does its work admirably. It operates with rapidity and elegance on the finest and coarsest fabrics. James Espy, 178 Liberty street.

True Philosophy.

"A penny saved is a penny earned," is true philosophy, but to make it of practical benefit, care should be taken to put the penny in the place where it will do the most good. For instance, deposit the small savings at the Smithfield Savings Bank, two doors from Diamond street. This bank gives the highest rate of interest, is well officered, managed with prudence and is secure to the depositor, while making him money.

The New Jubilee Organ.

This is an Organ that in workmanship, power, solidity, purity and equality of tone, cannot be surpassed, if equalled. It has been brought to such perfection that to day it stands without a compeer. For sale by J. M. Leighner & Co., No. 131 Federal street, Allegheny City.

Furniture.

At Messrs. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn street (east of railroad crossing), you can buy the best, the cheapest, the most durable, the most neatly finished and the most artistically designed furniture to be had in either city. Give them a call and satisfy yourselves that our representations are nothing but the truth. Examine their patent Bed Sofa, which is the neatest and most convenient article of the kind now manufactured.

Building Lots,
WITH
4 First-Class Dwellings,
AND TO BE SOLD
AT AUCTION,

On WEDNESDAY, July 16, at 1 O'Clock.

This valuable subdivision of Lots and these Dwellings has advantages that cannot be exceled in the county, adaptable in location, being in the most prosperous and healthiest part of the city, near street cars, railroad station, and verging on West End avenue, and from its very fine elevation, commands unlimited and delightful views stretching out from either point. Surrounded with LOWLAND and HIGHLAND, sending forth stately trees in all their majestic grandeur. The entire enclosure cemented and encircled with scenery of rare and unequaled beauty, away from the dust and din of the city, fresh and invigorating air, and in an unusually desirable neighborhood.

Every lot is 24 feet wide and from 100 to 110 feet deep, all fronting on 40 and 50 foot streets, and abutting on wide alleys.

The dwellings are all neat, commodious and pleasantly situated; a good orchard to each, an abundance of spring water, with gas on the premises. The close proximity of this whole property to the city, readiness of access, at only 5 cents fare from the Suspension Bridge by Western avenue cars, with churches, schools and stores, quite convenient, and in a rapidly improving neighborhood, all combined to render it just the place that hundreds of our people are looking for. Will be sold on terms within the reach of all.

Plans and further information obtained at office of Union Real Estate Agency, 47½ Federal street, Allegheny.

Butler Street, Between 50th and 51st Streets.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS OFFERED.

100 MAGNIFICENT LOTS

Are to be offered to the Public

AT AUCTION,

ON MONDAY, JULY 14th,

At 2 o'clock P. M., on the premises.

This is unquestionably the most desirable Plan of Lots now in the market, and has been laid out by an efficient surveyor with great care, and approved by the Survey Committee of the City of Pittsburgh, every lot being beautifully situated, and fronts on a fifty (50) foot street, and located in the midst of a large and increasing community, and adjacent to the most numerous manufacturing establishments in the City, such as SALT WORKS, LOCOMOTIVE WORKS, FURNACES, PLANING MILLS, BRIDGE WORKS, &c. It is just the place where mechanics and workingmen should buy a home, being close to CHURCHES and SCHOOLS. There is plenty of good soft water on the premises, and gas can be had if wanted for each and every lot. Purchasers of lots should make a note of this, that it is the ONLY piece of property that has ever been or ever will be offered for sale on this plan that has water and gas at the door. Then why should you go out of town from five to ten miles to buy a lot that will cost you as much, if not more, and can never have gas and all the convenience of the city? Another reason why you should attend this sale and buy a lot is this—The cost of car fare to and from the city, and it is a very large ITEM for workingmen. Just look at the difference in buying a lot in the city and out of it, what a person will save in one year, as viz:

COST OF RAILWAY TRAVEL.

Let the reader compare the yearly expense of making one trip each way daily, (Sunday's excepted,) to different points near the city, before deciding where to locate. The cost of fare one year on the Inclined Plane Railway, for one person, is $18, and for youths and school children, $12, and $32 40 additional for fare on cars.

ON THE PAN HANDLE ROUTE.—The fare for one year is, to Temperanceville, Nimick, Sheridan and Ingram, each $39; to Broadhead, $45 60; to Cemetery, $48; to Mansfield and North Mansfield, $57; to Fort Pitt, $64 80; to Walker's Mill, $75; to Hays', $78; to Gregg's, $84; to Oakdale, $85 80; to Noblestown, $87; to Arlington, $90, and to McDonald's station, $96.

ON THE CONNELLSVILLE ROUTE.—Cost for one year, to Soho, Laughlin's and Frankstown, each $34 20; to Hazlewood, $36; to Grove and Glenwood, $39; to Brown's, $46 20; to Salt Works, N. Homestead, Homestead and City Farm, each $51 60; to Mills and Braddocks, $58 20; to Port Perry, $70 80; to Saltsburg, $75 60; to Riverside and McKeesport, each $85 20.

ON PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—The fare for one year is, to Millvale, Shady Side, East Liberty and Torrens, each $39; to Homewood and Brereton, $45 60; to Wilkinsburg, $48; to Edgewood, $65 20; to Swissvale, $57; to Hawkins, $58 20; to Copeland, $61 80; to Braddocks, $64 80; to McKinneys and Brintons, $72; to Turtle Creek, $78; and to Walls, $84.

ON THE WEST PENN RAILROAD.—Fare for one year is, to Chestnut street and Herr's, each $31 40; to Bennett's, Pine Creek, Etna and Sharpsburg, each $39; to Ross, $57; to Claremont, $58 20; to Fairview, $56; to Harmersville, $78; and to Lincoln, $82 26.

ON THE FORT WAYNE ROAD.—Fare for one year is, to Superior, Woods' Run, Verner, Jack's Run, Neville, Bellevue and Birmingham, each $39; to Laurel, $42; to Fleming, $45 50; to Dixmont, $51 60; to Glendale, $57; to Agnew, $63; to Haysville, $64 80; to Sewickley, $72; to Economy, $90; and to Rochester or Beaver, $108.

ON THE ALLEGHENY VALLEY RAILROAD.—The fare for one year is, to McCandless, Standard, Sharpsburg and Morning Side, each $39; to Brilliant, $48; to Waring, $51.60; to Ireland, $57; to Sandy Creek, $58 20; and to Armstrong and Verner, $66.

ON THE CHARLESTON AND VIRGINIA RAILROAD.—A single fare to Homestead is twenty-five cents, and a 52-trip ticket costs $4, making the yearly expense for one person $48, Sundays excepted.

On the Penn street cars or Pennsylvania Railroad, one trip each way daily to Lawrenceville, $32 40

The foregoing estimates are based on the use of monthly tickets. It will be worth while for persons contemplating removing out of the city for a home, to carefully examine the rates of fare above given.

These lots only require to be examined to merit appreciation. All the advantages of the country will be obtained here in connection with city convenience, combined with the privilege of being within a FEW MINUTES' RIDE of the great business centre of the city, and can be reached from the centre of the city by railroad or street cars in a FEW MINUTES.

A celebrated BRASS BAND will be in attendance.

TERMS—One-fourth cash, and balance in four equal payments.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 116.

THE New York Sun states that Secretary Robeson is building $30,000 stables at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and wants to know what for? The Louisville Courier Journal thinks "for the horse marines."

WE ARE treated again to the periodical rumor that Bismarck is about to retire from the Cabinet of the Emperor William. We suppose it simply means that he is about to make his usual Summer visit to his estates at Varzin.

GOVERNOR PARKER, of New Jersey, who is sufficiently orthodox in his Democracy to have been talked of by that party for the Presidency, imitates President Grant in remaining away from the Capital in Summer. He lives at Freehold, and communicates with the departments by means of the telegraph. What an outrageous criminal he must be!

"LORD GORDON" doesn't seem to appreciate American society quite as thoroughly as he did a year or two ago. He then entertained such as he permitted to enter his august presence with displays of silver plate and even managed to do Jay Gould out of $300,000. Gould is anxious that Gordon should visit New York again, but that worthy prefers Manitoba.

THE appointment of the several Committees, by the Republican County Committee, marks the commencement of the work of the canvass. We do not anticipate, however, an exciting time in this county. The several Committees are composed of persons who will attend to their duties, and all the necessary preparations will be made for any emergency the canvass may develop.

THE Philadelphia Press thinks the new Constitution will be defeated if the people are not aroused. We hardly know what to think of the Press of late. It blows hot and cold with commendable regularity. Does it aim to discourage, by such paragraphs as the one we refer to, or is it really in the dumps? The people will be aroused. We predict an earnest and lively canvass when the new Constitution comes before the people, and a full vote. If the document is all right, it will be adopted.

WE ARE not prepared to judge as to the reason which may have prompted the Park Committee to decide against accepting the Schenley donation, yet we cannot avoid thinking it a mistake. The property offered the city is worth about a million of dollars. The work of improving it need not necessarily commence immediately, or be paid for by direct taxation. Sooner or later we will have a park, and we submit whether it is not wise to accept an offer so liberal as that extended. We specially hope that no narrow considerations of jealousy control. Only the most conclusive reasons should lead to a refusal.

YOUNG WALWORTH is described as having indulged very freely in pleasantry while on his way to Sing Sing,—and his badinage is fully reported in the New York press. Such publications do more to encourage a certain class of young people to enter upon a life of crime than anything else possibly can. A young man, whose education and intelligence were sufficient to assure him of the terrible nature of his crime, is convicted of the murder of his father, and is on his way to prison, under sentence to life long confinement at hard labor. Such a sentence represents the practical blotting out of life,—yet these terrible features are glossed over, and the foolish fun of this young man is reported. This bravado makes him for the moment a hero, and there are many who would commit murder for such an honor.

OUR PROPOSED City Exposition has attracted considerable attention throughout the country, and we hope the committees appointed will display proper energy in urging forward the preparations, in order that there may not be a failure. The following from the Philadelphia Ledger indicates the interest with which the subject is viewed by the press of the State: "Pittsburgh contemplates holding an Industrial Exhibition upon a large scale, and meetings are being convened there for the purpose of deciding upon the time and plan of operations. The preponderance of opinion favors holding it this Fall, but that has not yet been finally determined upon. The estimate is made that $250,000 will be sufficient to erect the buildings, supply motive power and defray the expenses, and the desire is to keep the Exhibition open six weeks or two months, and have it contain specimens of the manufacturing skill of the Ohio Valley and Pennsylvania. Pittsburgh is a thriving city of varied and large resources, her fame and success being based upon the mechanical and manufacturing skill of her people. There, if anywhere, an Industrial Exposition ought to succeed."

IT is gratifying to know exactly what the Shah is thinking about, and came to England for. We are indebted for this information to the correspondent of the New York World, who is a personal friend of the Shah—knew him intimately at Teheran—and calls on him and converses freely whenever he likes. He determined to know just what led to his roving trip over Europe, and so called upon him, with "a crowd of questions rising within me." But to these several inquiries the Shah merely replied "Oh!" and "No." "Ten minutes passed during which the only sign of life he gave was the occasional whiff of smoke he allowed to steal quietly out of the corner of his mouth. Then he started up as if inspired by some strange resolution, and staring me full in the face, he said: 'Yes, it must be—it must be!' I was struck dumb, and fearing that if I spoke I might disturb the train of his ideas, and so lose a revelation of matters of I knew not of what importance, I sat in silence with my ears extended to the uttermost." It is gratifying to know that the "extended ears" of the tender and considerate correspondent were only saluted by such expressions as, "There are fools in England as in Persia," which was suggestive. At last an officer appeared, and the correspondent deferred further conversation till next day. We are left to infer that "Oh" and "No" occasioned this remarkable visit of the Shah to Europe.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph, and other sheets of kindred sentiment, act unwisely in opposing the work of the Constitutional Convention so rabidly. They will simply expend their force before the real battle comes on, and cannot create public sentiment in advance. The real status of this whole question is simply this: The people desire certain reforms, which failing to secure through the Legislature, they have constituted a Convention to enact. If the work of this Convention shall be found, on the whole, commendable, it will be ratified; if it is not what it should be, it will be condemned, in whole or in part. The Convention has acted unwisely in a number of particulars. It has undertaken to create a new Constitution, rather than revise the one we now have; it has occupied more time than was anticipated; it has embodied too many petty details, some of which were only suitable for legislation, and it has cost too much money. But we do not believe the people will allow these things to prejudice them against so much of the work of the Convention as may be of value. Our only fear is, that the attempt will be made to compel the people to ratify it as a whole, or not at all. This will be unfortunate; but if the Convention will permit the people to vote on the several sections separately, we believe that what really belongs to, and can be called fundamental law, will be ratified, and what is not, will be rejected. There are items in it that we shall decidedly oppose. To provide in the organic law of a State, for the size of aldermen's districts, the scope of their jurisdiction, and their salaries, and to confine this to one or two cities, is so contemptible and petty, that it deserves reprobation. It might safely be referred to Councils, and certainly can be provided for in the charter of the city. We are pleased to have Pittsburgh and Allegheny properly recognized, but not in this way, and particularly as there would be no political influence brought to bear against the items referred to being acted on by the Legislature. Our only fear is, that the Convention will regard itself as an overgrown Common Council. But with all this we do not approve the policy of judging its work as a whole, in advance.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

The visit of the Shah of Persia to Europe, taken in connection with several other events, has served to inspire a very decided interest in circles given to political discussions. The health of the German Emperor William, and of the Sultan of Turkey is reported to be very bad, and the possibility of a speedy dissolution of these gentlemen is regarded with much attention. The Emperor is advanced in years, and his ability to resist disease must be greatly reduced. But it is affirmed that he is merely feigning sickness,—the necessity for doing so having originated with the desire to get rid of the Shah; it is well known, however, that his health has not been settled for some time. His death would be important merely because of the effect it might possibly have on the policy of the Government. No doubt exists as to who will be his successor, but there are uncertainties as to his policy. He is rumored to dislike Bismarck, and to have said he will not be ruled by the strong willed Prince. Should he change the general policy followed by his father, it is easy to see that the Ultramontanes and Jesuits, France and Austria, and possibly the entire list of European powers, will be deeply interested.

The death of Abdul-Assiz, like that of all other Sultans, will be certain to be followed by radical changes of policy. This always happens in Turkey. The will of the Sultan is, after the Koran, the law of the Empire,—and each Sultan is prone to impress his individuality on the Government. The family to which the reigning Sultan belongs is not long-lived, and hence there may be some ground for believing the reports in circulation respecting his ill-health. He is, it may be said, the best ruler Turkey has had for many years. His brother who preceded him, wasted extravagant sums on his harem, and gave little attention to public affairs. The present Sultan bestows less regard on his wives, and has developed considerable aptitude for public business. Should he be succeeded by a voluptuary, the affairs of the Empire will soon be in a dangerous condition. No greater calamity could well befall that Empire, just now, than the death of the Sultan.

But these issues are altogether subsidiary to the broader question—what political significance is to be attached to the Shah's visit? The idea that he is simply making a parade for the benefit of Baron Reuter, or to secure a loan, is not generally believed. It is shown that he had a long interview with Lord Granville, which the well informed Spectator says, "terminated in a contract or promise to be ratified probably at Simlah, which was very soon known in Berlin, whence it elicited the curious telegram that England was again entering upon a great policy, and still more speedily at St. Petersburg, whence has issued the ordre du jour to the press to blackguard Britain."

This alliance, the Spectator thinks, involves the guarantee of Persian independence by England, and an agreement on the part of the Shah to resist Russian encroachments, and to protest with England against the permanent occupation of Khiva. The value of the Persian alliance, in such a movement, consists chiefly in the strategic character of her position. Teheran is so convenient to Khiva that were the Shah aided by the English, with troops, artillery, and particularly a commanding officer, the position of the Russians in Khiva would be difficult to maintain. So enthusiastic are the English over this presumed alliance, that one paper says: "Neither westward upon Turkey, nor eastward upon Afghanistan, could the Czar move a step with Lord Northbrook standing around at Teheran. Marshal MacMahon might as well attack Belgium with Von Moltke in full strength at Metz." While this may be a rather extravagant comparison, it fairly illustrates the confidence of the English that the alliance is valuable to them.

That a diplomatic struggle is imminent between England and Russia is evident. The disappointment of the Russians over such an alliance as is reported to have been formed by Granville and the Shah is evident from the tone of the press. That Russia meant to leave Khiva is not to be believed. But her presence there is a threat, both to Persia and the British in India. Already the policy of fighting Russia in behalf of India has been discussed by the Gladstone Cabinet, and the outcropping is, that both Gladstone and Granville would gladly avoid a conflict. If it were merely the question of granting freedom of government to India, it is understood that Gladstone would do it rather than have war, claiming that English influence and institutions are firmly established there. But an attempt on the part of Russia to seize upon any portion of Indian territory would be an entirely different affair, and no Ministry could refuse to fight in such a case. But Russia is far too shrewd to give such a provocation now, and hence the alliance with Persia is of very little moment.

EDWARDS PIERREPONT, counsel for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, has served an answer of the Company upon ex-President Alden B. Stockwell, in a suit which has begun to recover certain money, $1,350,000, alleged to be due him. The answer declares the persons who compose the present Board of Directors are new to their duties in that company, and are personally ignorant of the facts alleged, but on information and belief deny that the claim is well founded.

CROP ITEMS.

Reports from All Sections.

REPORTS from farmers in different parts of Fayette county give favorable returns from the crops.

IT is believed at the Department of Agriculture that the cotton crop will, in spite of the heavy rains at the South, be equal to that of last year. It is maturing late.

THE farmers commenced harvesting their wheat last week, and by next Saturday it is thought the wheat will generally be cut. The crop is turning out better than was anticipated, as the heads are well filled, and the straw clear of rust.—Uniontown Genius.

WE have conversed with quite a number of farmers within the past week, and the universal report is, that the wheat crop is splendid, hay will be a short crop and oats promises an abundant yield. With these prospects in view, our Coshocton county farmers are quite jubilant.—Coshocton (Ohio) Age.

CORN is now growing finely in most parts of Lebanon county, and has a healthy and promising appearance. The rains did not come in time for the oats, which is unusually short. The wheat is being harvested, and gives a yield we think equal to any for several years past.—Lebanon Courier.

FOR a week past many of our farmers have been engaged cutting grass and making hay. The crop in many places is not as heavy as could be wished, particularly on the hill sides, but in the bottoms the grass is heavy. The crop to be gathered will hardly make an average one in this section.—Washington Reporter.

IN the region of country tributary to Sioux City, embracing northwestern Iowa, northern Nebraska, and Southern Dakota, the area of wheat is one-half greater than last year. Corn is not large. Crops, without exception, are better than the average. Small grain especially promises an unusually large yield. The weather is favorable.

CROP reports from all parts of Iowa are favorable for a large crop of small grain of all kinds, except winter wheat, which was badly winter killed. Oats and spring wheat are very promising, though badly lodged in some localities, in consequence of the recent severe and long continued rain storm accompanied by heavy winds. Corn promises fairly for an average crop, with a favorable fall.

FURTHER reports from the West, especially from Ohio and Indiana, show that the late severe storm did great damage to the crops of that region. The wheat crop was fully ripe and suffered badly; and some of the lowland farms were so suddenly and completely overflowed as to imperil life and sweep the entire surface of the soil. We may, however, be shown a brighter side of this picture by and by.—New York Tribune.

THERE have been heavy rains in Illinois for the past few days. The country is almost deluged with water. Great damage has been done wheat, oats, and hay, which, in the south part of the State, had just been harvested, and were still in the field, while in Central Illinois harvesting had just begun. The grain in Southern Illinois is reported sprouting, and in the centre it is blown down so that much will be lost, as it will be impossible to harvest it. Although streams are much swollen, no injuries to property are reported.

THE prospect for the farmers in Northern New Castle, Delaware, and Southern Chester counties is very bright indeed. The wheat is now ripe, and by the last of the week will be generally harvested. The heads are well filled, the straw is heavy, and the yield will be large. The corn crop is the most promising one of many years. In many fields the stalks stand waist high, are of a fresh green color, and the crop has been "laid by" for the season. The hay crop is a very fine one.

THE Meadville Journal reports that corn will be poor; in some instances an entire failure; oats promise an average crop; wheat looks finely and will be a splendid crop; potatoes, in spite of the bugs, promise a good yield; a large area of buckwheat will be sown, many farmers plowing their corn under and putting in buckwheat instead; hay will be an average crop in most localities; the rains of the past few days have helped oats, corn and potatoes wonderfully, and the prospect is much better than it was a week ago; the fruit crop is the poorest known for many years; there will be a few apples, but of poor quality; pears, plums and peaches are failures.

FARMERS in this county commenced on the 30th of June to cut their wheat, and from present appearances, if the weather be favorable, they will have it all out and some of it in the barn next week. The crop is not a full one, but a pretty fair one. The rains which commenced to fall some ten days ago have wrought most astonishing changes in the appearance of the oats and corn crops. While it is true that some of the oats will be too short to tie, yet the greater part will be long enough in the straw for that purpose, and they will be well filled and heavy. The corn—a great deal of it—is now four or five feet high, and will be out in tassel in a week. The stalks are strong and healthy, and the crop may yet be a good one. The hay crop is about an average one.—Greensburg Herald.

FARMERS in the interior of Pennsylvania, and especially in the Eastern counties, are gathering abundant harvests. The timothy and grass crops in many sections are unusually heavy. The wheat crops have not been as good for several years. The heavy snows and the late spring were especially useful in perfecting this important cereal, and while the absence of rain in sufficient quantities during the past month has seriously interfered with the late potatoes, and the oats in some sections are rather short and light, it has served to prevent the mildew. The wheat stands up finely, and in some localities will average from twenty-five to thirty bushels an acre. It is now dead ripe in many places, and farmers who have not finished their haying are compelled to postpone it until after the wheat and rye are garnered. The corn is backward, although it has improved wonderfully since the refreshing showers of last week.—Philadelphia Press.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

ROBERT O'MALLEY, for killing Henry King, in California, was sentenced five years to the State prison.

THE northern section of Maguire's saw mill, in Philadelphia, was burned last Thursday night. Loss $30,000.

MRS. UTICA V. BROOKER, sister of Victoria C. Woodhull, died in New York on Wednesday night of Bright's disease of the kidneys.

IT is reported that the French Government has under consideration the question of calling a Congress of representatives of the great powers in Paris to discuss the terms of a new commercial treaty.

THE British steamer Galley, from San Francisco for Hong Kong, took eighty-eight thousand dollars treasure, over three thousand barrels flour, and one hundred thousand feet of lumber, on her outward passage.

THE Catholics of Springfield, Mass., have unanimously decided to withdraw their children from the public schools, and are preparing for the immediate erection of new buildings, to be under the control of their own denomination.

THE railroad earnings in June on seventeen lines, including only Erie of the four great trunk lines, show $9,559,000, as against $7,693,000 in June, 1872, the average increase being over 20 per cent. The same lines since January 1 report $50,563,000 as against $46,840,000 last year.

THE detectives have arrested a number of colored people of Delhi, Ohio, charged with stealing goods from burning cars on the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Railroad, last winter. The cars caught fire immediately after a collision, and the negroes were very busy getting the goods out of them, and, it seems, carried to and concealed in their houses a large quantity of fine cloth, silks, boots and dry goods.

IN the case of a boy killed in London by being knocked down by a package of goods thrown from one tipsy porter to another, the Coroner pointed out to the jury the extraordinary fact that "accidental death in a Coroner's court usually meant a death in which somebody ought to have been more careful." Notwithstanding this significant allusion to the conduct of the porters, the jury found a verdict of "accidental" death.

JUDGE DANIELS, of the New York Supreme Court, has given a decision taking grounds that members of the Legislature who have held municipal offices at the same time, by the acceptance of the former vacated the latter. The decision was given in the case of James Ryan, who, while holding the position of Deputy Clerk of the Court of Special Sessions, was elected and served as member of the Legislature, and who sued for a salary from the former office.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that several lawyers are engaged, directly and indirectly, upon the Shepperd-Dana libel suit, and briefs for the argument of the case before Judge Blatchford, or notes for the briefs have been prepared. It is claimed that as the Police Court of the District exists by an act of Congress within territory where Congress has exclusive jurisdiction of all offenses against the United States, and not punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary, and that all editors of newspapers whose journals sent into the district, are answerable to this court upon complaint of any person made before it that such newspapers contain matter held to be libelous, and may be brought before it from any part of the United States and tried under the law of libel prevailing there, which makes libel a criminal offense.

SOME of the English women have a very decided style of doing their shopping. Harriet Lloyd, the wife of a horse-dealer, was recently arrested at the instance of a draper for assault. The testimony showed that the defendant entered the complainant's shop, inspected some of the stock, and eventually selected for purchase some remnants and a lot of calico. So far, matters had gone pleasantly enough, but when the bill for the goods was politely handed across the counter, she questioned the accuracy of the prices, and flatly refused to pay for the goods. The complainant mildly protested, whereupon Mrs. Lloyd attacked him, scratched his face, threatened to knock him down, and then pulled him out of his shop by the beard. For this demonstration of the argumentum ad hominem, Mrs. Lloyd was fined $25—an expensive day's shopping.

The First Seeds of Consumption.

Nearly every one will believe that the first tubercle that is deposited in the lungs or elsewhere in the human body, finds its way there through the channels of the circulation; and if no tubercle were in the blood, none could be deposited. If you can so enrich the blood with proper plastic material, it will contain no tuberculous matter as it goes the rounds of circulation; it will leave at each spot the supplies necessary to the faithful carrying on of all the functions of life. Tubercle is a foreign element incongruous to the health of the body and when deposited in sufficient quantities in the lungs, they are inadequate to the uses which Nature designed for them. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure will overthrow these tubercles; will arrest them in their progress through the arteries; will dissolve them and carry them out of the human body before they find a lodgment or resting place. The discovery of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure is an epoch in the treatment of Consumption and all chronic diseases of debility. It cures without sickness, pain, or weakening or hindering from work, as may be learned by reading Dr. Keyser's treatise, to be had free of cost, by addressing him at 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 11, 1873.

There is no special change to note in financial matters hereabouts, extreme ease being the most prominent feature. Money continues in excess of the demand for temporary use, and lenders find some difficulty in obtaining employment for a portion of their surplus funds at the current rates of interest. The discount for first-class paper remains at 8@10 ₩ cent. ₩ annum. There is no marked activity in local stocks, but prices are quite firm. Transactions in real estate are numerous on the lines of the various railroads, and prices are firmly maintained.

Funds in Philadelphia continue abundant and rates were easy for first-class borrowers with little business demand; all paper offering is readily taken at 7 ₩ cent. when not having more than 90 days to mature; for 30 to 60 days six per cent. is taken on best grades of paper. Call loans continue easy at 5 ₩ cent. At the Stock Board there was no noticeable change of feature. Sales of State 6s, third series, at 103, and City 6's, new, at 101. Reading Railroad sold in a small lot at 55⅜; Pennsylvania Central railroad brought 54⅜@54⅜, the latter at buyer's option, and Little Schuylkill 46⅜; 42⅜ was offered for Catawissa preferred; 32⅜ for new do., and 37 for Oil Creek and Allegheny.

The Chicago money market presents no feature worthy of special notice. The payment of July dividends in New York has thrown more money into the market to seek investment, and stimulated the prices of stocks and bonds.

Business at the Baltimore Stock Board is fairly active. Of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad stock a sale was made of 10 shares at 175; the preferred was again quoted 100 bid, 101 asked. Northern Central was wanted at 37, held at 38. Central Ohio preferred was offered at 41. Transactions in bonds were as follows: 1,000 Pittsburgh and Connellsville sold at 9⅜, an advance of ⅜; 1,000 Northern Central gold at 80⅜, 1,000 Marietta and Cincinnati 2d at 81⅜, 2,000 at 81⅜, ⅜ to ⅜ higher. Baltimore and Ohio 1880s closed at 94⅜ bid. Northern Central 1900s currency at 85⅜, and Orange and Alexandria 2d 6s at 84, bid at 86⅜.

Rates in St. Louis remain nominal at 8 and 10 ₩ cent. ₩ annum, and call loans are freely made at 7 and 8 ₩ cent.

There is considerable doing in commercial paper in Boston, and the note brokers find but little difficulty in disposing of first-class names on four months at prevailing rates, say 6⅜@7 ₩ cent., with an occasional transaction in very choice corporation paper, with selling agent's endorsement as low as 6⅜. One names not so well known the range is fully up to 9 ₩ cent., but, instead of standard grades, rates are irregular. The statement of the Boston national banks, as returned to the Clearing House, Monday morning, July 7, while showing a wide variation in separate items, indicates but little change in the volume of reserve. There is a large increase in loans amounting to $1,640,300, bringing the total up to $122,927,000, which would seem to indicate a rather more active demand for money; but this is partially offset by the gain in deposits of $1,377,800, and in country bank balances, which, however, is doubtless but a temporary increase. Specie is augmented by $948,700, while legal tenders have fallen off $474,400.

In Cincinnati the paper maturing from day to day is small in amount, and paid promptly. The banks are well supplied with currency, and continue to discount liberally for their depositors at 10 ₩ cent. In the open market private capitalists are discounting good business paper at 8@10 ₩ cent., occasionally an A No. 1 note is credited at 8 ₩ cent. There is no paper offering of a speculative character, and in the lists of applicants for discounts all the various branches of trade and commerce are well represented. Money on call @7 ₩ cent. Money on mortgages, city property, from one to five years, 10 ₩ cent., and in some instances transactions are made at 9 ₩ cent.

NEW YORK, July 11, 1873.

Money was easy at 3@4, closing, freely offered, at 3. Sterling firm at 109⅜@109⅜ for sixty days and 110⅜@110⅜ for sight. Gold was active and higher; advanced from 115⅜ to 116⅜, and closed steady at 116. Loans 3@4 per cent. Clearings $43,000,000. Treasury disbursements $661,700. Customs receipts $353,000. Governments were dull, but strong. State bonds were inactive. The stock market opened tame at a slightly lower range of prices. At the first call, however, the tone changed and a general advance followed, accompanied by more activity, which continued throughout the rest of the day. The highest figures were current at the close in most shares, when the advance ranged from ⅛ to 4⅜ per cent. The chief features were Atlantic & Pacific preferred, which rose from 20⅜ to 25; C. C. & I. C., from 29 to 30⅜ (the old parties in the stock seeming to be once more purchasers); Western Union, 85⅜ to 86⅜, closing at 86; Pacific Mail, 36⅜, 37⅜ and 37⅜. No threat 69⅜, 69⅜ and 69⅜; Harlem 127, 126 and 128⅜; New York Central 103⅜, 103⅜ and 103⅜; Lake Shore 91⅜ and 92⅜; Ohios 39⅜, 38⅜ and 39⅜; Rock Island 110⅜, 110⅜ and 110⅜; Wabash 69⅜, 70⅜ and 69⅜. Union Pacific and Erie have been weak. The former rose from 27⅜ to 28⅜, but declined to 27⅜. Erie declined from 61 to 60⅜ in sympathy with London and on rumors that some of the preferred shareholders are about to bring suit against the company, or intended to enjoin any dividend on common stock. The whole market closed steady, with Western Union, C. C. & I. C. and Lake Shore strong.

COMMERCIAL.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY July 11, 1873.

There seems to be a better feeling in grain and produce circles; trade, while it is by no means active, is evidently improving, and hopes are entertained that the dull season is about over, and that the stagnation which has characterized our markets for some time past, we might say all this year, will soon be succeeded by that activity and buoyancy, which our merchants and manufacturers have been hoping for.

APPLES—Green Apples are coming in quite freely, and as the market is well supplied, prices are easier although without quotable change, $3 to $5 per brl, according to quality, size and condition. These prices, judging from the steadily increasing receipts, will not be maintained any length of time.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for the better grades, and we are reported sales of prime to choice at 18@20. Low grade butter, however, is in good supply and dull.

BEANS—$2.50@3 ₩ bushel.

CHEESE—The market is reported steady, but prices remain unchanged: prime Ohio Factory, 11@11½ to the trade, and 12@12½ in a jobbing way.

COUNTRY MEAT—There is but a limited demand, and the market is generally reported dull, although prices remain without quotable change.

DRIED FRUIT—Prime halve Peaches quoted, in a jobbing way, at 7½@8c. Apples dull and nominal at 3@4c.

EGGS—Were in rather better supply to-day, and the market in consequence is a shade easier, but prices, as compared with yesterday, were without quotable change, 18@20c.

FLOUR—The market, as noted in our last issue, is firmer, but prices remain unchanged: quotations may be fairly given at $6.75@7.25 for fair to choice Springs, and $8@8.50 for fair to choice winters. New York is reported firmer, but Liverpool, according to Thursday's dispatch, was no better. The increased firmness in the west was brought about by the wet weather, but it is likely to be of short duration. Rye Flour, $5.25@5.50.

GRAIN—There is a better feeling in Grain circles, and with rather more inquiry and diminished receipts, the market is firmer, but, as yet, there is no quotable advance in prices. Red winter wheat is still quotable at $1.45@1.55, as to quality, with sales reported at both of the above quotations. The Oat market is still reported stiff, and some dealers are asking higher rates, but, as yet, no advance has been established, and we continue to quote at 43@45 for good mixed to prime white. Shelled Corn is quiet and in light supply, but there is not much call for it, and prices are unchanged, 53@51 on track, and 55@56 in elevator. Ear Corn is also in light supply and unchanged, 56@57 in bulk. Rye is quotable at 75@80, although we hear of some small sales at 82@83.

GROCERIES—There is a moderate demand for the leading staples, and a fair business for this season of the year, but the market cannot by any means be termed active. Our merchants do not expect as large a sugar trade as they had last year in consequence of reports that the yield of small fruits will be comparatively light. Coffee although quiet, is firm. No movement of any consequence in Molasses or Syrups, there never is at this particular time.

SYRUPS—White Drips, 65; other grades ranging from 60 to 40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9; prime, 8⅜ Patna, 8@ Rangoon, 7⅜@8.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 73@75c Prime 70@72.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 25; Good to Prime, 22⅜@23⅜c. fair 21@21⅜c. Old Government Java, 28c; other Javas, 26@27c. Roasted Rio, 1 lb packages, 28c; loose, 27⅜c. Roasted Java, 33⅜.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 12⅜c; Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 11⅜; Standard A, 10⅜; B, 10⅜; Ex. C, 10⅜c; C, Yellow, 10⅜; Circle C, 10⅜; Lower grades, 9@10.

HAY—The market, for both loose and baled, in consequence of continued light receipts, is firm and prices are advancing: the former sold in Allegheny, from country wagons, at $30@28 ₩ ton for new crop, and $30@40 for old, according to quality. Baled may be quoted at $24@28.

POTATOES—Continue in light supply, and prices are well sustained, ranging from $5@8 ₩ brl for new crop, according to quality. Old crop in light supply, and not much called for; quotable at $1@1.50 ₩ bushel.

POULTRY—Young or Spring chickens are quotable at 50 to 60 cents, and old ones at 70 to 80 per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ₩ lb, 16c. Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 10⅜; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 19½c. Beef tongues, $7.50 ₩ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 9½c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 10½c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides. 11c. Mess Pork, $17.50 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in tres, 9⅜c. Do, halfbbls, 10⅜c. Do. bkts 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12⅜c. Do in 5 lb. 12⅜c. Do. in 3 lb. pails 13⅜c ₩ pound. Do. in 6 lb. pails, 12.

RAGS—Quoted at 3⅜@3⅜c.

SEEDS—Flax Seed, $2.10@2.12.

WHISKY—Highwines quotable at 90@94c per gallon.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND NAIL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, PITTSBURGH, Friday July 11, 1873.

The market for finished Irons and Nails continues dull, although not any more so than is usual at this particular time; the great majority of the mills have been stopped, our manufacturers taking advantage of the dull season to take stock and make repairs. Prices remain unchanged; 3 and 5 tenths is the card rate for merchant bars, but 3 and 5 tenths is about the actual selling price. There was to have been a meeting of the nail manufacturers on Tuesday last, to act on, among other things, the proposition which was made some time since to stop the factories six weeks, commencing with the first of July, but the attendance was so small that it was deemed prudent to let the matter lie over, and this will likely be the last of it. It is probable that the mills will start up about the first of August, though, of course, a good deal depends upon the condition of trade at that time.

TERMS—Note or acceptance at sixty days, with exchange on New York, or discount of two per cent. for cash, if remitted within ten days from date of invoice. Payments to be made in New York Exchange, United States Treasury Notes, or their equivalent. No discount on bills of less amount than fifty dollars.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The trade movement is slow with both agents and jobbers. There has been a break in the prices of fine bleached shirtings. New York Mills are down to 19c. Wamsutta and Utica Nonpareil to 18½c. Utica 45 inch to 15½c, and do heavy to 17½c. Laconia fine browns are now 10c. Cordis ticks are lower. Laconia and Pepperell drills are 13½c. Several denims are reduced 1c.

PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET. WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 11, 1873.

There has been rather more activity in the pig iron trade within the past week, and, as might be expected, the market is firmer although there has been no advance whatever in prices. It would appear that some mill owners, having become satisfied that the market had about touched bottom, and might possibly react, have been buying to some extent, mostly for future delivery, and at prices ranging from $35@36, 4 mos., mainly at the inside quotation for best mill irons. Quite a number of buyers, however, are still holding off, as they are apprehensive that there may be a further shrinking in values, and, we presume, that nothing short of an actual advance will satisfy some of them on this point—they won't buy on a declining market. Quotations may be fairly given as follows: Gray Forge $35@36; White and Mottled, $33@34. Charcoal—cold blast, $60@63; warm blast, $55@56. Blooms, $100@115, according to quality.

The following sales were reported:

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 11, 1873.

The Crude market was reported firmer to-day, and as compared with yesterday, prices are a shade higher, quoted at $1.80 ₩ brl. at Parker. The future of the market is very uncertain; some operators seem to think that the bottom has certainly been reached, while others, equally as well informed, insist that unless there is a falling off in the production, that there will be a further depreciation. Refined is quiet and nominally unchanged; 17⅜ delivered in Philadelphia, and 14⅜@14⅜ on cars here.

Oil Barrels in fair demand, and firm but unchanged. Countries, $2.15; city make, $2.35.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede at this point with 5 feet 10 inches in the channel. Weather yesterday clear and pleasant, and very favorable for outdoor business.

No arrivals since the date of our last, and business at the wharf, to use a common phrase, is about played out.

The Messenger may be taken to Brownsville for repairs.

The Diamond is reported as having sunk a flatboat at the Parkersburg bridge, and the Iron sides a flat of fuel at Brown's Island, having struck it upon one of the sunken barges at that point.

The Bengal Tiger tied up her tow at New Cumberland, and returned to this port.

The Coal City, Sam Miller, Veteran No 2, Panther, James Blackmore, Lion, Charles Browns Lake Erie No. 2, Gipsey, Tiger, Tom Rees, Nellie Spear and Ella were reported at Cincinnati yesterday.

The Juniata was to have left Cincinnati for this port last evening, and it is said that she would have a good trip.

The Mallie Ragon is laid up at Wheeling undergoing repairs.

—The St. Louis Republican contains the following: Capt. Tom Rodgers, of the raft boat Aid, was on 'Change yesterday. From him we learn that in clearing out the raft in Red river, there are engaged, besides the steamers J. N. Kalbaugh and Aid, five steam saw mill boats used in cutting the logs in small pieces, thus preventing jams and blockades from forming below. They are regular flatboats, about 60 feet long and from 15 to 20 feet beam, with the machinery of a saw mill on board. The one commanded by Capt. Butts was built in New Orleans, and was the first to cut a log in Red river. There is also a powder boat, used for blasting purposes, in charge of Capt. Kingsbury, an old and experienced hand in the blasting business. She is about the same size as the sawmill boats, but is constructed more in the shape of a model barge. A long texas is built on her deck for the crews and the officers of the sawmill steamers. The J. N. Kalbaugh is commanded by Capt. John S. Tennyson, formerly of the United States Government snagboat fleet, and is used as a tender to the steamers at work on the raft, and keeps them in supplies. She is also used in keeping open the jams. The Aid always goes in the lead and does the loosening and pulling out of the logs. Capt. Rogers will return to Red river about the 1st of October to resume the command of the Aid, and to continue the clearing of the raft.

—The work on Cumberland dam is rapidly progressing. Capt. J. W. Drewey, the United States Inspector, says that within the next two weeks the extension of the dam to the head of Cumberland Island will be completed. Six hundred feet of the brush foundation is already in place, and the stone compleulon is being pushed with energy. Within 15 days the work of filling the main gap will have been completed. Capt. R. G. Ferguson has the brush contract and Capt. Frank Bedard the rock.

—We find the following in an exchange on steamship disasters: "Two Eries and two Missouris have been burnt; two Atlantics have been wrecked on rocks; two Arctics have been sunk; two Columbias have been wrecked; three Chesapeakes have been captured by enemies; two Presidents have been missing, and two City of Bostons have been foundered."

—Capt. John W. Stewart, late of the towboat Victor, has taken command of the steamer Belle LaCrosse, vice Capt. Henry Carson, who has gone to the pilot house with Clede Baird. Jas. B. Johnson, the other pilot of the boat, has been called to his home on the Big Sandy by his wife and child being dangerously ill.

—The Keokuk and Northern Line offer for sale the steamers: Muscatine, Davenport, Keokuk, Victory, Damsel, Jennie Baldwin, Annie Johnston and New Boston. They will retain in use the towboats G. H. Wilson, Bill Henderson, Dan Hine, Charlie Cheever and Addie Johnston.

—The Missouri Star Line Company's new steamer will be launched this week at Madison, and will be towed to St. Louis to be completed. "Bella of Missouri" is her name.

—Capt. W. H. H. Benyand has advertised for proposals for the removal of eight or more wrecks obstructing the Yazoo river.

—Capt. J. V. Johnson is now in command of the R. A. Babbage, Capt. John Seltz having gone to the Ohio on a visit to his family.

—The W. H. Brown left the ore pile Monday for Pittsburgh, with six model and two square barges containing about 2,700 tons.

—Capt. Dave Campbell has purchased of Capt. Samuel Hambleton a small ferry boat lying at Mound City for $2,500.

—The Jennie Howell and Nashville added largely at Evansville on their way down the creek.

—The force at work on the Red river raft expected to reach Kouns' canal last Saturday.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in mature years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if tell you remember they are a personal examination they will frankly up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address

GIRARD MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 172 Second avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Office hours 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. Sundays by appointment.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE United States has recently given a decision in favor of the Gorham Manufacturing Company, enabling them to protect their designs from all other manufacturers who imitate and copy them.

Particular Notice

is requested to the fact that the same artists are engaged in the production of designs, whether for the Sterling Silver Department, or for the celebrated Gorham Plate, but the Company never reproduce in their Electro-Plate Department the designs which they devote to Sterling Silver. Each has its own special trade-mark, as follows, stamped upon every article:

Trade mark for Gorham Sterling Silver | Trade mark for Gorham Electro-Plate.

STERLING GORHAM MFG. CO.

GORHAM MANUFACTURING CO.,

Providence, R.I., and No. 1 Bond St., New York, Manufacturers of Sterling Silver, Tea, Dessert and Dinner Services, and Wedding Outfits; also manufacturers of the celebrated Gorham Electro-Plate.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Obituary.

Yesterday morning, Miss Lucy Ingalls, sister of the Rev. R. T. Miller, died at the residence of her brother, in Temperanceville. She was a young lady of superior worth, eminent for Christian graces, and for a gentle and winning disposition, which had greatly endeared her to a large circle of friends, to whom the intelligence of her death will be a source of genuine grief. The funeral services will be held in the Main street M. E. church, Temperanceville, on Monday, and the remains will be taken to Washton, Pa., for interment.

The Assessment Appeals Committee.

Last evening the Committee Appeals from Assessments held their last meeting for the purpose of taking testimony. Several appeals were heard, but none acted upon. Hereafter the Committee will sit with closed doors and consider appeals which have not yet been decided. It is thought by holding three meetings per week the work may be finished in three months. On Wednesday morning next the Committee will visit the Twenty-first ward to examine some property in that ward, the assessments of which have been appealed from.

Narrow Escape from Death.

Mr. Samuel Hawthorne, of Hawthorne & Lacock, tinners, of Allegheny, was engaged in putting on the cornices of the New Young Men's Home building, when his foot slipped and he fell. About fifteen feet below him was a platform upon which he struck. He was stunned and confused by the fall, and as he fell near the edge of the platform, he was about to roll off when he was caught by a workman and dragged back again. Had he fallen to the ground death must have been instantaneous, as the building is four stories in height.

A Victim of the Bowl.

About eight o'clock yesterday morning, Jacob Keck, a resident of Wellsville, Ohio, was found dead in his bed at Hare's Hotel, on Liberty street. The Coroner was summoned and held an inquest upon the remains, when it was learned that the deceased came to this city on Monday last, and that on Wednesday he drank to excess and was so intoxicated that he could scarcely reach his room. About three o'clock on Thursday afternoon he went to bed, remarking that he was going to sober up, and nothing more was seen of him until he was found dead yesterday. When his room was opened a bottle containing morphine was found on a stand near the bed. It is supposed the deceased procured the drug to quiet his nerves, and took an overdose. The jury rendered a verdict of death from excessive use of liquor, and an overdose of morphine. The deceased was fifty years of age.

The Park Concert Programme.

The programme for this evening's concert to be given in the West Park by the Great Western Band is published below. It will be seen that Foster's popular compositions are a prominent feature of the programme and that the "Fourth" Reminiscences with the "gunpowder accompaniments," will be repeated:

Grand March....Renner.
Overture—Jolly Robbers....
Old Folks at Home....Foster.
Blue Danube Waltz....Strauss
Quick-step, Duquesne Greys....Ross.
Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming....Foster.
Musical Jokes....Ringlaben
Waltz....Lebitsky.
Serenade....
Gallop—Reminiscenses of the Fourth of July in which will be introduced the shooting of guns, fireworks, etc.

Traveler's Guides—Standard Authorities

A series of interesting and very valuable publications for travelers, are the "Guides" which emanate from the great publishing house of Messrs. D. Appleton & Co., No. 549 and 551, Broadway, New York. The books of this class coming from this house have always been regarded as standard authorities, and many a weary hunt for famous sights, or vexatious delays by choosing wrong routes, has been saved to the traveler who has provided himself with one of these volumes before starting out. The list now comprises guides for the eastern, western, northern, or southern travel, and the mineral springs of this country, and travel in Europe together with railroad guides for all sections. The information contained in them is accurate, and the traveler on any particular route with the appropriate guide, can save time and money and much annoyance. Secure the one you need on your journey before starting out. See the list published elsewhere.

THE ORANGEMEN.

Prospects for a Creditable Turnout To-day.

The Orangemen's societies of this vicinity will celebrate to-day by a parade, for which extensive preparations have been made. Reports have been received from the various societies of such a character that it is anticipated the display will be one of the best ever made by the Order in this section. Quite a number of new banners and other attractions have been secured, and the procession promises to be unusually attractive. The route as published elsewhere will inform our readers where a sight of the line may be enjoyed.

CITY PROPERTY.

An Adjourned Meeting of the Committee.

An adjourned meeting of the City Property Committee of Councils was held last evening. The sub-committee appointed at the last meeting of the Committee to examine the "Co-operative Store" in the Thirtieth ward, and consider the expediency of purchasing the same to be converted into a station house, reported in favor of purchasing the building at five thousand dollars. The report was approved.

A number of bills were presented and approved.

A communication was received from the Board of Health, calling the attention of the Committee to the condition of the basement of the Nineteenth ward station house, which was said to be full of stagnant water. The clerk was instructed to inform the Health Officer that the Committee had taken steps to abate the nuisance.

STREETS.

A Special Meeting of the Committee Last Evening.

A special meeting of the Street Committee of Councils was held last evening. Mr. Evan Jones in the chair. The City Engineer presented a number of assessments for street improvements, which were read and approved.

The sub-committee to whom was referred the practicability of changing the grade of Penn avenue between Thirtieth street and its intersection with Butler street, unanimously reported it practicable and beneficial, and recommended the same in accordance with a profile presented. The sub-committee expressed the belief that it would prove a great public benefit. The report was approved.

In relation to that portion of Penn avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, which was reported in a very bad condition, a sub committee was appointed to examine into the condition of the avenue, confer with the Passenger Railway Company and report back to the Street Committee.

Mr. Oberheldman to whom had been awarded the contract for construcing the bridge across Saw Mill Run, appeared before the Committee and asked permission from the Committee to change the kind of stone to be used in building the abutments of the bridge.

The matter occasioned considerable discussion in the Committee, and the Engineer being called upon for his opinion decided that after the contract had been given the kind of stone could not be changed from that mentioned in the contract.

Mr. Elder moved that the contractor be ordered to proceed with the work. The motion was carried, and the Committee adjourned.

BURGLARY BUSINESS BRISK.

Nine Houses Entered in the Two Cities.

"It never rains but it pours" proves as true in regard to the visitation of burglars to the city, as in matters of a different nature. Within the past two days there have been six burglaries committed in the city and vicinity, though for a long time previous such crimes have been remarkably scarce. On Thursday afternoon, during the absence of the family, the house of Mr. Max Roedelheim, at Allegheny avenue & Cabinet street, Allegheny, was entered and a revolver and twelve dollars in money stolen. A large quantity of clothing was also taken. This is the same house which was entered on the Fourth by two armed burglars.

The house of Mr. Dickson, on Beech street, Allegheny, was entered Thursday night by burglars who opened a window, and while the family was absent, gathered up a small amount of jewelry, and had the silver-ware wrapped up in a blanket ready for removal, and it was found in that condition when the family returned. It is supposed that the operations of the thieves were interrupted before they were ready to leave.

Mr. W. S. Purviance's house, at the corner of Sandusky street and Church avenue, Allegheny, was entered the same night, but the family, who were away, had removed all the valuables, and the thieves got nothing but a revolver and five dollars in money.

At Turtle Creek, the houses of Drs. Hunter and Robinson were broken into. At the former place the thieves captured $175 and a gold watch. At the house of Dr. Robinson they secured nothing very valuable.

Yesterday morning at an early hour the dwelling of Mr. S. Fetterman, in the Thirty-second ward, was entered and robbed of articles of jewelry to the amount of five hundred dollars. A man named Fred Jenkins was suspected of the robbery, and an information was made against him before the Mayor.

It was discovered yesterday afternoon that the house of Capt. Martin, on Arch street, Allegheny, had been entered during the day, in the absence of the family, and everything was turned upside down by the burglars. The loss could not be ascertained.

About one o'clock yesterday morning officer Snyder discovered a man enter the house of Mr. Koutz on Pine street, Allegheny, by going through a new building adjoining. The officer followed him, but could not succeed in capturing him.

Officers Elliot and Clark arrested three men, named Albert Sweinhart, H. Gray and John Bailey, as they were in the act of entering a residence on Western avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. They are held for a hearing.

M'KEESPORT REGATTA.

A RATTLING RACE.

The Single Scull and Four Oared Contest Yesterday on the Monongahela River—The Various Crews that Participated—Prizes Offered—Interest Manifested—An Exciting Time—The Victors.

The boat race yesterday afternoon, at McKeesport, taken as a whole, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind that ever came off in Pittsburgh or vicinity. Every train that left the city during the forenoon carried persons to witness the contest, and in the afternoon a special train arrived at McKeesport at 2¼ o'clock, and added a large number to the then large crowd. The National Hotel was the headquarters of the men from Pittsburgh, and up to the hour for the race it presented a very animated scene. Betting was not very lively at any time, and in that respect the anticipations of some were not realized, however, as far as chin music and blowing were concerned there was a surfeit. In addition to the crowd from Pittsburgh, numbering perhaps six hundred, McKeesport turned out almost its entire population. The day was very pretty, with a nice cool breeze blowing up the river, and the men and women, young ladies and gents, boys and girls, arrayed in holiday attire lined the river bank for nearly a mile.

As three o'clock, the hour set for the single scull race, approached, the men began to desert the streets and gravitate toward an old saw mill standing on the bank of the river, where the sculls had all been placed preparatory to the contest. Owing to the arrangements not having been properly made and perfected, the race was not called for fully thirty minutes after the hour set, and the interim was spent in talk and vain endeavors to satisfactorily arrange a few bets. Not many, however, were made, as it was thought it would be pretty much of a one-sided affair, and so it turned out. Shrewd sporting men never put up their money unless they see some prospect for a return, and in this race the man who would bet against either Scharff or Denmarsh was considered as not standing a shadow of a chance.

By the way, a word in regard to the Gilpin Boat Club of McKeesport, under whose auspices the regatta took place, would not, perhaps, be out of place. The crew was organized, as our reporter was informed by one of the members, about three weeks ago, and now numbers eighteen members. Mr. John F. Davitt is secretary of it. He took a prominent part in the event of yesterday.

THE SINGLE SCULL RACE.

About three o'clock or a little after, Billy Scharff shot out into the river, and was followed soon after by Nick Denmarsh. Both of these men belong to the McKee crew and are two well known to need any introduction. Besides them Bob Sweitzer, of the Sheridan, and Pat O'Hanlon, of the Soho club, were also entered for this race. Scharff's scull is named the "James Chambers." It is twenty-nine feet seven inches long, eleven inches wide and weighs 26 pounds. O'Hanlon entered the "Maggie E. Scott." Twenty-eight and a half feet long by eleven inches wide, and weighs twenty two pounds. It is said to be the smallest scull in the United States. Sweitzer entered the "John Young," thirty feet long by eleven inches wide, and weighs twenty five pounds. Denmarsh's boat is twenty-nine feet in length, of the same width as the others and weighs twenty four pounds. The three boats last named were all built by Fred. Espy, of the South Side, and they are as neat and pretty shells as an oarsman would wish to handle.

O'HANLON WITHDRAWS.

It was about three and a half o'clock when all the contestants were on the water, O'Hanlon being the last to put out. The judges selected were Dave Lewis, John F. Davitt and Dave Carle. The men chosen not being satisfactory to all concerned it occasioned a little difficulty resulting in the withdrawal of one of the men entered for the race. The Soho crew which O'Hanlon represented objected to Carle acting as a judge. O'Hanlon got in his boat and moved over to where the others were but turning round came back again and announced his intention to take no part in the race. His friends urged that it would be no use for him to row. But two prizes were offered, $75 for the first place and $25 for the second. As a matter of course Billy Scharff would take the first prize. There could be no question about that, and they claimed that the chances for the second prize were largely in favor of Denmarsh, who was considered by many, to be next to Scharff, the best rower in Pittsburgh. From that it was argued that there was no necessity for a display of muscle on the part of O'Hanlon, as it would only be labor lost. Some of the men did not like the idea of the McKee crew taking both prizes, which many foresaw would be the case, and if Scharff had withdrawn from the race and left the fight for the money to the other three, it would no doubt have proved far more satisfactory. Denmarsh left his position, and coming over to where O'Hanlon was, endeavored to persuade him to reconsider his decision and enter the race, but he refused to do so.

AWAY THEY GO.

Denmarsh did not parley long, but rowed over to the judges' boat, and was awarded the choice of position. He took the centre, with Scharff and Sweitzer on either side. The distance to be rowed was three miles. One and a half down, and the same distance up. The word to go was given, and a beautiful start was made. Each man's oar took the water almost at the same instant, and bending to their work they shot down the river at a rattling pace, Sweitzer taking the lead, with Denmarsh next and Scharff bringing up the rear. The former, however, did not long hold the first place, for Scharff rapidly crept to the front, and Denmarsh, too, very soon passed Sweitzer, and so they swept down the river, Scharff maintaining the lead to the close of the race, and Denmarsh coming in second. Before the buoy was reached Sweitzer gave up the contest and stopped rowing. He laid there, resting on his oars and waiting until the other two passed the buoy and coming up on the home stretch he followed them in. Scharff reached the starting point twenty lengths ahead of Denmarsh, with Sweitzer fifteen lengths still further in the rear. The former was declared the winner of the first prize, in twenty-three minutes and a half, and Denmarsh took the second.

A FIGHT.

The interest in this race did not run up to an astonishing height, because, as before stated, it was considered pretty much of a one sided affair. But few bets were made, and in one instance a difficulty arising out of a misunderstanding as to which man won, resulted in a fight that for a moment or two gave promise of ripening into a full blown row. The sum in dispute was only five dollars, and after half an hour's wrangling and cursing and swearing several blows were struck, but the affair was quelled before it assumed alarming proportions. It created a good deal more excitement than the race did, and had the effect of frightening a good many young ladies away from the river bank. However, they all regained their assurance and came back again in time to witness the second contest. It is to be regretted that any disturbance at all occurred, but it could not be expected that Pittsburgh roughs would behave themselves if any opportunity offered to create a difficulty. Beyond this fight no other breach of the peace took place.

THE FOUR OARED CONTEST.

If there was not a great deal of interest manifested in the single scull race, the same certainly cannot be said in regard to the four-oared race. It was the great event of the day and the expectations of all in regard to it were fully realized. The contest was hot and fierce, and created the wildest excitement. The women caught the contagion, and the white handkerchiefs fluttering from the windows of the houses on the river shore, and from every other available point where a female could gain a foothold attested the interest felt by them.

THE DIFFERENT CREWS.

Five crews entered for the race, as follows:

Fisher Crew—Bow, Newton Fogarty; second, Criggen; third, B. White, and fourth, C. Kolp. Color, blue. Boat "Tom Jackson," forty-three feet long, nineteen inches wide, and weighing one hundred and fifteen pounds.

Sheridan Crew—Bow, Bob Sweitzer; second, Frank Denmarsh; third, John Young, and fourth, Joe Miller. Color, blue. Boat, "Wm. Benshir," forty-two feet long, seventeen inches wide, and weighing one hundred pounds.

Howard crew—Bow, T. Bulger; second, Fred. Bulger; third, A. Feiler, and fourth, Mike Hammer. Color, white and blue. Boat, "Jas. Kinney," forty-four feet long and nineteen inches wide, weighing one hundred and fifty-one pounds.

Soho crew—Bow, D. McRoberts; second, Frank O'Hanlon; third, Wm. Glover, and fourth, S. C. McCloskey. Color, white and red. Boat, "Henry Lloyd," forty feet nine inches long by eighteen inches wide, weighing one hundred and ten pounds.

Juniata Crew—Bow, D. Sweitzer; second, G. Erbe; third, E. Ruiso, and fourth, Charles Feight, Color pink and blue boat "Dave Carle," forty and a half feet long by eighteen inches wide, weighing 125 pounds.

The Howard crew was the same as at Toronto with the exception of Thomas Bulger who pulled in place of Louther.

The distance for this race was four miles. One mile down and return and repeat, thus giving spectators an opportunity to see almost the entire contest. Three prizes were offered. First, $125; second, $75, and third, $25.

MAKING PREPARATIONS.

Five o'clock was the time announced for the race to commence. All the boats were on the river at that time, but a start was not made for half an hour after, owing to the fact that a number of steam tugs kept continually moving up and down the river, and disturbing the water too much. Finally they all got above the wharf and anchored there, the men on board being as anxious to witness the fun as the persons on shore. The more preparations were delayed the greater the interest became. Our reporter, in company with a newspaper friend, shoved out in a skiff and boarded the steam tug "Little Whale," under command of Captain Davis. Seated on the bow of the boat an excellent view of the entire course could be obtained, but the Captain, as though anticipating what would be most desirable, followed the race from its commencement to its termination.

GETTING IN POSITION.

About half past five o'clock the crews took their positions as follows: The Fisher crew first, on the McKeesport side of the river, the Soho next, then the Juniata, the Howard and the Sheridan. It was pretty generally conceded that the Howard crew would win the first prize, therefore the interest was centered chiefly in the second and third places.

An excellent start was made, the Howard crew taking the lead, followed by the Fisher boys, and with an encouraging cheer from the river banks, they, with the rest, went down the river at a ripping rate, the oars dipping the water fully forty times to the minute. The first mile was hotly contested and the rapidity with which the boats skimmed along the surface of the water told plainly that every oarsman was throwing all his nerve and muscle into his bending blade. They reached and turned the buoy, the Howard boys rounding first, followed by the Sheridan, with the Juniata next, the Fisher not a great distance behind and the Soho bringing up the rear.

SECOND QUARTER.

The Howard crew kept the lead throughout the second mile, but about the commencement of it, the Fisher crew caught up with and passed the Sheridan, which was followed by the Soho and the Juniata last. The boats were all moving in splendid style, one after another, in the order last named, with the first three about the same distance apart, when the Fisher "caught a crab" and let the Sheridan ahead just as they were nearing the end of the second mile. The Howard was turning the second stake when the Sheridan was fouled by some craft that was in the way, and before the boat could be get entirely clear the Fisher crew, which was closely following, ran into the Sheridan. However, it did not prove an impediment to the race, as the buoy was satisfactorily rounded by all, with the Howard leading, followed by the Sheridan, Fisher, Soho and Juniata.

THIRD QUARTER.

At the beginning of the third mile the boats were pretty well together. The Sheridan lads expended a little extra muscle, and succeeded in shortening the distance between themselves and the Howard boat, but were unable to completely close the gap. On this quarter the Juniata crew passed the Soho, and the third stake was turned by the Howard leading, followed by the Sheridan, Fisher, Juniata and Soho.

Perhaps the prettiest rowing of the entire race was done in completing the fourth and last mile. The Howard crew was ahead, and going up the river at the rate of fully thirty-six strokes per minute. Next came the Sheridan, Fisher and Juniata boys. These four crews were following each other and were each about the same distance apart, while the Soho's were away in the rear, and at the end of the race the "Henry Lloyd" was fully half a mile behind.

THE WINNERS.

The Howard crew reaching home first won the first prize, $125, the Sheridan boys the second prize, $75, and the Fisher-men the third prize, $25.

The time of the race was twenty-four and a half minutes, that being given to our reporter by one of the Judges, Mr. Davitt.

BREVITIES.

....City Councils will meet on Monday.

....The Band will begin to play this evening in West Park at seven o'clock.

....The Park Committee of Councils had no quorum at their meeting yesterday.

....A large frame hay shed at Torren's station, caught fire yesterday and was nearly destroyed.

....Miller Oyler was arrested at Rochester and sent to Allegheny. He will have a hearing on the charge of larceny.

....The McCully bequest case still holds on its way. Testimony is now being taken before Register Gray in reference to the genuineness of the deceased's signature to the note, by which he willed away $75,000 to his friend Clark. The testimony is, however, not of special public interest.

....The pardon of W. J. Robinson, now serving a term in the Western Penitentiary, has been received. Robinson was sentenced to an imprisonment of two years, having been convicted of felonious assault and battery on a policeman. His term would have expired next month.

....In the single scull race which came off on Wednesday on the Merrimac river and in which T. C. Butler, of Boston, Lawrence Rourke, of Lowell, and Eph. Morris, of this city, participated, Morris again came off victorious. The distance was two miles and the purse $100. Morris won in fifteen minutes and ten seconds, beating Butler four lengths and Rourke ten.

....Two men named George Boggs and Hugh Freel were arrested on Thursday night while engaged in unloading a lot of lead, castings, steam guages, &c., from a skiff in the Allegheny river and transferring it to a wagon on the shore. The goods, it is thought, were stolen, and the police think that the arrest of the above parties will lead to the capture of thieves who operate along the banks of the river.

No Puffery—A Square Dealing House.

Among the business houses of Pittsburgh which need no puffery is that of Messrs. Wm. Hespenheide & Co., No. 50 Sixth street, which is one of the leading establishments in this community engaged in the merchant tailoring trade. This firm have always made it a practice to let their work speak for them, and hence have relied upon giving satisfaction to every one, as their best advertisement. From personal knowledge of the house, the manner of doing business, and the character of the goods always kept on hand, we are fully prepared to recommend it to the confidence of our friends.

Messrs. Hespenheide & Co. just now have a superior stock of goods for summer wear on hand, and have facilities for quickly filling any order that may be left with them. Their stock consists of all the freshest styles of fabrics, and they will make up in a style that can be excelled nowhere. Their goods are first-class, their work not a whit behind, their prices reasonable, and the house as deserving of confidence as any other west of the mountains.

Office Furniture.

A specialty of office furniture is made at Messrs. J. N. Dryden & Co.'s, No. 182 Federal street, Allegheny.

Sustain Home Enterprise.

There is really no occasion for Pittsburghers to go east now to buy a carriage, or any kind of a fine vehicle, as they can be accommodated at Messrs C. West & Co.'s Nos. 165, 167 and 169 Liberty street. We make this statement after taking a ramble through the establishment, and spending some time in a careful examination of the manner in which the work is carried on in this establishment, and the materials used. There is nothing but the best seasoned timber, the best kinds of iron, and the best trimmings used, no matter whether the vehicle be a large or small one. Then, in the make up, there are only employed workmen who are really skilled in every branch and who take a pride in their work.

Sometimes work may be, and is, joined together and its defects covered with a heavy coating of paint. The vehicle so manufactured can be sold somewhat lower, but it is dear at any price. Such is not the case with the manufactures sent from C. West & Co's. We advise our friends who want a vehicle to take this suggestion and make a critical examination of the stock at 165, 167 and 169 Liberty street.

Up to the Times.

There is no house built now-a-days, by a first-class builder hereabouts, that is not provided with the Anderson Sash Balance for the windows. This invention has been found by experiment and use, in thousands of cases, to be just what was needed and its popularity is only another evidence of the fact that a really good invention will make its way.

The Anderson does away with the old style of heavy weights and pulleys, and can be fitted to a window, without a sash especially made for it. This renders it less expensive, less liable to get out of order, more durable and more perfect in its workings. Is this too much in its praise? The man who doubts can satisfy himself by a visit to No. 70, Smithfield street.

Vanilla and Chocolate E'Clairs, at Hubley & Co.'s.

Fashionable and Good.

Such is the style and quality of clothing kept in store and for sale by Messrs. Urling, Follansbee & Co., corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue. They do not keep a shoddy article and impose it on their customers at the price of a good article, but keep the very best quality of made up clothing, and sell the same at very reasonable prices. The beauty of this establishment is the one price system, and in addition, their clothing being made of the best material, and in the most fashionable manner, renders this a desirable place to purchase. The styles at this house are always of the newest, and the fabrics selected from the best in the market. Those who desire to have the most stylish articles at the most reasonable rates cannot afford to pass the establishment of Urling & Follansbee, corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue.

Furnish the Household.

You can get all the new styles of furniture for any room in the house at Messrs. J. N. Dryden & Co.'s, No. 182 Federal street, Allegheny.

A Happy Man.

Happy is that man who knows that his hard earnings are securely invested in property, and that the property is insured in the Teutonia Company of Allegheny. He may rest assured then that he is all safe because the Teutonia is proverbial for the prompt settlement of all losses, and the man who holds a policy countersigned by Mr. Henry F. Eggers is sure, if occasion ever requires it, to get the full amount of money it calls for, on the shortest notice, and without any vexatious haggling.

The rates of the Teutonia are very favorable. It is a home company, and every wise man in the community who owns property will insure in it.

White Vests, White Vests.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Personal and Otherwise.

THE United Presbyterian gives a blast at the circus.

REV. G. K. ORMOND will preach in the Fifth U. P. Church to-morrow at 10½ A. M., and 3 P. M.

J. J. GILLESPIE, Esq., who is now travelling in Europe, is corresponding for the Recorder of this city.

THE corner stone of St. Peter's Cathedral, Twenty-fourth ward, will be laid to-morrow afternoon.

REV. A. P. COLTON, formerly of Erie M. E. Conference, but now of St. Louis, was visiting his friends in this city this week.

THE Sabbath School connected with the First U. P. Church (Rev. W. J. Robinson) Allegheny, had their annual pic nic at Monitor Grove on Thursday.

PREACHING in the Central U. P. Church, Allegheny, to-morrow at 10½ A. M. and 7½ P. M. Communion services in the afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock.

EVENING services have been suspended at the North avenue M. E. church, Allegheny, for the summer months. Regular services will be held in the morning as usual.

THE Fourth avenue Baptist Church having secured the services of Dr. Pearson of Indiana as pastor, expect him to fill the pulpit Sabbath July 20th, in the morning and evening.

THE M. E. Church at Banksville, Rev. L. H. Baker, pastor, which has been closed a short time for repairs, will be re-opened on Sabbath, July 13th. A number of ministers will assist in the services.

THE M. E. Church in Greenock, Rev. J. L. Stiffey pastor, having been closed for some time for repairs, will be opened July 13. Dr. J. Horner will preach in the morning and Rev. D. A. McCready in the evening.

THE Fourth Baptist Church, corner Thirty-seventh and Charlotte streets, have petitioned the Court to amend the Charter by substituting for the words Fourth Regular Baptist Church—Thirty-seventh street Baptist Church.

CHRIST M. E. church, this city, is undergoing extensive alterations and repairs, and services have been suspended for a couple of months. The work will be pushed forward rapidly, so that services can be resumed after summer's heat is over.

REV. LUKE J. WASSON, late pastor of the church of Fairview, Presbytery of Pittsburgh, died June 14th, at Minneapolis, Minn., of consumption, in the twenty-seventh year of his age. The Banner of this week contains a lengthy obituary notice.

A WRITER in the Methodist Recorder wants some one to rise and explain "If the sugar plum gospel of our day is really the gospel, and nothing is to be said of a condemnatory or denunciatory character, why does Paul say what he does in Hebrews 22:5—11.

MR. D. J. SATTERFIELD was ordained and installed pastor of the church of Beaver last Thursday week. Rev. Dr. Bittinger delivered the sermon, and Revs. W. P. Moore and R. H. Price the charges. Mr. Satterfield is a graduate of the last Senior Class of Allegheny Theological Seminary.

REV. P. H. MOWRY, of Springfield, Ohio, will preach in the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, (Dr. Swift's) to-morrow at 10½ A. M., and 7½ P. M. Mr. Mowry is a native of Allegheny City, and has many friends in both cities, who will be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity to see and hear him.

THE Advocate of this city says: "Rev. A. B. Leonard is reported in some of the city dailies as having failed in his health, resigned his charge in Cincinnati, gone West, &c. We know not how this may be. We have a letter from him in this week's paper, that was dated June 30th, in which no intimation of any of these things is given."

THE First Christian Church, corner of Arch street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, of which Joseph King is Pastor, continues to be in a growing and prosperous state. Forty persons have made the Christian profession and united with the church during the six months just past. Mr. King closed with the month of June the tenth year of his present pastorate. During the time he has been pastor four hundred and ninety-six persons have been received into the church. The present membership is four hundred and sixty, and the Sunday School, under the auspices of the Church, numbers three hundred scholars. During the last few weeks the audience room of the church building has been undergoing repairs. It has been cleaned and frescoed handsomely, so that it is now one of the most beautiful rooms for worship in the city, and will be re-opened for public services to-morrow, 13th inst., at 10½ A. M.

Interesting to Housekeepers.

All housekeepers know that there is nothing which so displays their knowledge of domestic matters and their skill as good housewives than a well set, neat table. The home may be perfect in other respects, and yet if there is a deficiency there it will be an unpleasant commentary upon the proficiency of the mistress of the mansion.

As no woman can make a table look right unless she has the materials, the first thing is a full supply of Queensware, China and Glassware, and that in Pittsburgh can be had to the greatest advantage at the old established house of Garber & Williams, No. 189 Liberty street. This is one of the oldest houses in the city, and in its line has no peer. There is literally everything in the trade found there, and a housekeeper would be delighted just to view the stock. Then, too, the prices are remarkably low, so that every purse can reach them. Housekeepers, drop into 189 Liberty street and get your supplies.

Repairing.

If you have a a nice buggy or a fine carriage that needs a little repairs, don't entrust it to an inferior workman, but take it to Messrs. Caughy, McCallin & Co's. Nos. 52 and 53 West Diamond street, Allegheny.

People Soon Discover the Best.

Calling in yesterday, at No. 76 Fifth avenue, we found the establishment of Messrs. George Crawford & Co., crowded with purchasers. Thinking this might be temporary, we remained awhile, and the buyers instead of diminishing, kept constantly increasing, giving evidence of the most substantial kind, of the popularity of this establishment under its new management. And indeed it could not be otherwise, for the quality and variety of the goods which fill their counters and cases, are sufficient to induce a liberal patronage. They keep no goods of the flimsey, flashy style, but their stock of clocks, watches, chains, rings and pins and all the other et ceteras of a well furnished jewelry establishment are characterized by richness, beauty and artistic design. Particular attention is given to the different kinds of repairing. Do not deny yourself the pleasure of an inspection visit to No. 76 Fifth avenue.

Eighteen Hundred Button Holes.

The above seems an incredible number of button holes to be worked in one day by the American Button Hole Sewing Machine, and yet it has been done. It has peculiar merits and many advantages over all other machines. Its simplicity, ease, certainty and the range of its sewing give it a superiority over all others.

The Standard Lodge No. 76, A. J. O. K. S. B., will hold its first annual pic-nic on the 23d inst., at Friendship Grove. The following excellent committees have been appointed: Committee of arrangements—Ned Levy, J. DeRoy, Abr. Weller, C. Zugsmith, Jr., E. DeRoy. T. Tobias, A. Cohen, B. Sandelowsky, A. Green, H. Abrams. Floor committee—Abe Weller, Abe Fantler, A. Bernstein, M. Abrahams, Joe De Roy, M. Streng, Harry Goldsmith. Refreshments will be served by the ladies. Music by Toerges' celebrated band. The affair cannot fail under such management to be a complete success.

A Nice Buggy

Is a possession which every man delights in, and this can be had at the establishment of CAUGHEY, MCCALLEN & CO., Nos. 52 and 53 West Diamond street, Allegheny.

Sells Itself.

Agents may very glibly extol the merits of a sewing machine in which they happen to be interested, but the Weed needs no such puffery as that, as its merits recommend it without any other aid. The Weed is the perfection of simplicity in securing machine mechanism, and that's why it is so easily kept in order, so easy to learn upon, so easily run, and always ready for work. Mr. F. C. Biggert No. 118 Market street, is the agent for the Weed.

DEATH STOPS PROCEEDINGS.

An Important Decision in the U. S. District Court—A Principle Established in Bankruptcy Cases.

Yesterday morning His Honor Judge McCandless delivered an important opinion in the United States District Court. It was in the case of Frazier, Frye & Co. vs. J. V. McDonald, action in bankruptcy, and the point at issue was whether the death of the respondent did not put a stop to the proceedings. The argument was heard several days ago, and as it was the first case of the kind known here, great interest was felt in the decision. His Honor rendered a written opinion as follows:

THE CASE.

"On the 4th of April, 1873, a creditor's petition was filed against John V. McDonald, alleging several acts of bankruptcy. To this he filed a denial on the 13th of April, 1873, and demanded a trial by jury, which was ordered. On the 28th of May, 1873, and before a jury trial could be had, his executors, by counsel, came into court and suggested his death as having occurred on the 22d of that month. At that instance a rule was granted on the following creditors to show cause why the petition and all the proceedings thereunto should not abate.

The question presented for our consideration is, does the death of McDonald terminate the proceedings in a Court of Bankruptcy?

CONGRESSIONAL RIGHTS.

"Judicial legislation is a dangerous encroachment upon the constitutional rights of Congress. Without its employment I cannot extend the provisions of the bankrupt law beyond the present status of this case. Realizing the justice of such an application to its existing features, I have tried to find authority for it in some one or more of its sections, but have not been able to do so. To apply the broad principles of equity practice to an act of legislation, comprehensive in its terms and designed to meet every possible contingency in the affairs of the debtor, is the exercise of a doubtful authority, and should be avoided by the Judiciary.

A "VOLUNTARY PROCEEDING" DIFFERENT.

"Were this a voluntary proceeding the statute provides for it by declaring in the 12th section, that if the debtor dies after the issuing of the warrant, the proceeding may be continued and concluded in like manner as if he had lived. In such cases he had already been adjudicated a bankrupt, and complete jurisdiction over his person and property had been acquired by the bankrupt Court, and there is no good reason why it should be transferred to another forum. In a proceeding by the creditors there is no such provision; the attitude of the party is wholly different; the process is simply inchoate; he has not been declared a bankrupt; he denies all the acts of bankruptcy charged in the petition, and demands that their truth or falsity may be determined by the jury. These are analogous to torts at an action at law, suits for which abate on the death of the party.

THE "CONTINUANCE" NOT AUTHORIZED.

"Even if we thought that the twelfth section applied to cases of involuntary bankruptcy, it could not apply here, for no warrant has issued, and could not issue until after an adverse finding by the jury and a decree of adjudication. Many of the clauses in the involuntary sections of the Bankrupt law are penal in their nature. With what propriety can you visit these upon a representative man, upon the executor, who is the appointee, and, post mortem, the legitimate representative of the dead man, or upon the administrator, who obtains none of his powers from the decedent, but is appointed by, and derives all the authority from, the Register of Wills.

In construing this act of Congress, I can give it no other interpretation, and as this is a question of the first impression, I suggest an early appeal, that it may be definitely settled in this Circuit. The rule is made absolute."

HOW TO BAFFLE DISEASE.

The man who puts a bullet through his head dies more speedily than he who is continually sending volleys of strong cathartic pills down his throat; but the drastic pilots are as fatal in the end as the leaden ball. It is only a question of time. Common sense should teach everybody that the idea of expelling disease by subverting the bodily vigor which is its natural antagonist, is supremely absurd. There should be no purgation without invigoration and regulation. These three processes should go on together and they do so in all cases where Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used as a remedy for disease or for the general debility growing out of a torpid state of the digestive and secretive organs. In this great vegetable restorative are mingled three essential elements of cure: a purifying element, a tonic element, and an anti-bilious element. By these means dyspepsia, bilious disorders, intermittent fevers, sick headache, constipation, and nervous debility are readily cured and epidemic disease prevented.

DIED.

FRIDAY—On Thursday evening, July 10th, 1873, at 4 o'clock P. M., at Shady Side, LIZZIE GRACE, infant daughter of Wm. J. and Elizabeth F. Friday, aged 11 months and 3 weeks.

Death has claimed our darling child,
Set his seal upon her brow,

SHERIFF'S SALES.

Abstract of Properties to be Sold by John H. Hare, Esq., Sheriff, on Monday, July 28th, 1873, at 10 O'clock, A. M., at the Court house, City of Pittsburgh.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

Fifty dollars of the price or sum at which the property shall be struck off shall be paid to the Sheriff at the time of sale, or by Friday, August 1st, 1873, at ten o'clock, A. M., unless the purchase money shall be less than that sum, in which case only the purchase money shall be paid; otherwise the property will again, on Friday, August 1st, 1873, at ten o'clock, A. M., at the same place, be put up and sold at the expense and risk of the person to whom it was struck off, who, in the case of any deficiency in such re-sale, shall make good the same. In case of the sale being for a very large amount, will demand that ten per cent. of the purchase money be paid in addition to the fifty dollars.

N. B.—For the benefit of our unprofessional readers who do not understand the meaning of the letters and figures following the defendant's name, we make the following

AUCTION SALES.

VALUABLE
REAL ESTATE
AT AUCTION,
On Monday, July 14th, at 4 P. M.,
5 Valuable Lots
ON
JACKSON STREET,
SECOND WARD, ALLEGHENY,
Between Coffee and Monterey streets. Lots 22 by 93. This property is in a central location, finely situated. Street cars within a few minutes' walk of Allegheny Market House and Parks. The street has lately been widened, sewered, paved and in good order. It is a rare chance to find lots like these in the center of the city offering themselves at auction. We would most respectfully ask parties to go and examine these fine lots before day of sale.
Terms easy; made known on day of sale.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

THIRTEENTH WARD
Lots for Sale Cheap.
19 LOTS
23x100 feet, about two minutes' walk from Central Car station, Thirteenth ward. These Lots are in an eligible, healthy location and good neighborhood, near church and schools, and very desirable for dwellings. To persons of moderate means, or for an investment, they are the most desirable Lots in the market, being easy of access and but a short distance from the large manufacturing establishments of the city, and still away from the smoke and dirt of the city. Will be sold lower than any lots now in the market.
Apply soon to
HERRON & BATES
83 WOOD STREET, or to
J. H. HILLERMAN & CO.,
77 FOURTH AVENUE,

FOR SALE.
100 Quarter and Half-Acre
LOTS,
ALSO, THE
FARM HOUSE AND BARN,
With 1½ acres of ground and about 600 bearing Fruit Trees; also a Farm of 125 acres, adjoining the above Lots, with about twelve acres of Coal. All of the above within from five to ten minutes' walk from Walls Station, P. R. R. This property will be sold on easy terms. Plans can be seen at my office. This property offers better inducements for speculation than any property offered on the Pa. R. R. on account of its close proximity to the contemplated improvements of the P. R. R. Co. Inquire of
JOHN GRAZIER,
112 Smithfield street, above Murdoch's Seed Store.

NO BRASS BAND—NO FREE LUNCH, But if you want a nice quarter acre corner lot (80 by 141 feet) with a good spring, in the borough of Bellevue, five minutes walk from Neville Station, and at a reasonable price, call soon on J. R. HARRISON, at Barton's office, corner of Grant street and Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh, or on G. C. CAROTHERS, 19 Boyle street, Allegheny. je2-TTHS
